

War Clouds Fade As Bolivia Accepts Mediation Course

Pan-American Conference Will Act as Referee in Border Disagreement of Two Nations.

TEXT OF REPLY IS KEPT SECRET

Officials Intimate, However, That No Strings Are Tied to Agreement for Amicable Ending.

Washington, December 18.—(UPI)—War in South America apparently had been averted tonight by a narrow margin.

Through both an official announcement in La Paz and a communication from the Bolivian minister here to the state department, Bolivia accepted the good offices of the Pan-American conference for a settlement of her conflict with Paraguay.

The Bolivian acceptance apparently was without reservations—at least so far as is known now—which would assure a pacific settlement of the dispute that has threatened to bring about the first war in South America in many years, Paraguay accepted the conference's good offices Monday.

Shortly after predicting his country would accept the conciliatory proffer of the Pan-American gathering, Bolivian Minister Diaz De Medina today went to the state department and, in the absence of Secretary Kellogg in New York, told Assistant Secretary White he had received instructions to inform this government that Bolivia accepted the good offices and would reply to this effect to the chairman of the conference.

The text of the Bolivian note reached Kellogg's office tonight. It was said, however, that the text would be laid before the conference tomorrow before it is made public.

Should Bolivia's acceptance found to be without reservations, the Pan-American conference will probably dispatch a note to Bolivia and Paraguay expressing its gratitude over the agreement of the two countries to accept a pacific settlement and calling on them to withdraw their troops so as to avoid all further hostilities.

BOLIVIA CALMS DOWN AFTER PARAGUAY OFFER.

La Paz, Bolivia, December 18.—(United News)—War clouds that hung threateningly over South America were dispelled today when the Bolivian government accepted the invitation of the Pan-American conference for conciliation and arbitration to mediate the Bolivian-Paraguayan border incidents.

The acceptance of the conference's offer came after a night of lightened tension in the Bolivian capital, when a spirit of optimism spread through the city and the acceptance was freely predicted on every hand.

One Bolivian official said: "Paraguay's note of acceptance to the conference at Washington has communicated to the secretary of state that Bolivia accepts the good offices of the Pan-American conference for conciliation and arbitration, considering it essential to investigate the origin of the conflict consisting in an attack of Paraguay on us."

The Bolivian government will ask the Pan-American conference to investigate the attack, which Bolivia claims was made against her by Paraguay at Fort Van Guardia December 6. It was revealed in the text of the Bolivian note that they felt the government would follow suit.

The official communiqué signed by Foreign Minister Elias was issued at 3:30 a.m. today.

The Bolivian legation at Washington has communicated to the secretary of state that Bolivia accepts the good offices of the Pan-American conference for conciliation and arbitration, considering it essential to investigate the origin of the conflict consisting in an attack of Paraguay on us."

The Bolivian government will ask the Pan-American conference to investigate the attack, which Bolivia claims was made against her by Paraguay at Fort Van Guardia December 6. It was revealed in the text of the Bolivian note that they felt the government would follow suit.

This move, the note said, will not involve the other litigation in the border dispute, which is already under arbitration.

GOOD NEWS COMES IN LAST BULLETIN FROM KING'S ROOM

British Monarch Passes
Quiet Day and Progress
Noted Tuesday Morning
Is Continued.

London, December 18.—(AP)—Good news came from the king's bedside tonight. It was all the more welcome to British hearts after the disappointment caused by the Monday night announcement. The bulletin, timed 8:10 p.m., said:

"The king has passed a quiet day and the progress noted this morning has continued."

Slight Improvement.

The morning announcement from the doctors told of a slight improvement overnight, despite the fact that King George had gone through several disturbed hours. Thus tonight's report was cheering in two respects: one, that the king had improved, and besides it confirmed the renewed optimism which the morning announcement had given.

In the bulletin were signed by Sir Hugh Righy, the surgeon in the case; Sir Stanley Hewlett and Lord Dawson of Penn. Drs. Woods and Howitt this evening administered the daily treatment by ultra-violet rays. They were with the king about an hour, consulting of the regular doctors followed and the bulletin was then issued.

Ray Treatment Effective.

Of the last six official bulletins, four have given reports of improvement. This fact was taken as good evidence that the ray treatment was proving as effective as any in the past.

The check related in last night's bulletin was tonight believed, as it was then hoped, to be only a temporary halt in a slow upward climb.

Yet palaces authorities were careful to suppress anything like extreme optimism and they insisted that the time for anxiety had by no means come.

RUM BUYER FIGHTS CONSPIRACY COUNT

Broker Challenges Right to Arrest Person Purchasing Liquor for His Own Use.

Philadelphia, December 18.—(AP)—A challenge of the government's right under the Volstead act to arrest on a charge of conspiracy persons who buy liquor for their own use was made in the United States district court today when Alfred Norris, New York broker, formerly of Philadelphia, was arraigned on charges based on transactions with Joel D. Kerper, convicted bootlegger.

Norris, through counsel, entered a plea of nolle contendre to the indictment which charged him with conspiracy to traffic in contraband liquor to him in New York. His counsel then attacked the validity of the indictment on the ground that the purchase of liquor is not an offense against the eighteenth amendment or the Volstead act. He said the buyer cannot be punished by the prosecution "causing the purchase a conspirator or something else."

Judge William H. Kirkpatrick indicated that the ultimate decision in the case would establish a precedent fixing the status of the purchaser of liquor.

After two hours of argument, defense and prosecution, Judge Kirkpatrick

"Mail Early" Is Plea of Postmaster Edwin K. Large As Great Volume of Christmas Packages Is Received

With Christmas less than a week away, business at the main Atlanta postoffice is showing a decided increase, and Postmaster Edwin K. Large announced Tuesday that post-office receipts for Monday went over $30,000 for the first time in history. The actual figures were $30,205.

"In spite of this enormous sale of stamps," Mr. Large stated, "there is no evident pressure in any of our departments and I've never seen such a large amount of mail being handled so smoothly." Our slogan for this Christmas is 'Mail Early' and so far we have been able to live up to this perfectly. Orders have been issued that I am to be notified if anyone is forced to wait longer than this and so far I've received no such notification.

"Of course things may be more crowded later," he went on, "but I believe that we have things so arranged that confusion will be reduced to a minimum even in the height of the rush."

Nothing has been left undone to expedite service in the postoffice, authorities are asking in every possible way to expedite sorting and delivery of mail in their hands at the earliest possible moment and to remember that it still is not too late to "mail early."

An example of the more simplified methods of handling mail and preventing congestion is shown in the way these details are being handled

Clemency Denied, Sheppard To Pay With Life Today

GEORGIA BAPTISTS ASKED TO RAISE $3,500,000 FUND

Doomed Ax-Slayer of Homer Fowler Will Expiate His Crime in State Farm Death Chair.

FATHER OF VICTIM FIGHTS LAST PLEA

Apprised of Official Action, Sheppard Resigns Himself to His Fate and Asks Quick Execution.

Endowment Fund of $1,500,000 for Church Schools and $2,000,000 Thank Offering Asked.

Georgia Baptists Tuesday were asked to provide an endowment fund of $1,500,000 for church educational institutions and to assist in raising a thank offering of $2,000,000 for the Southern Baptist convention.

The thank offering will be taken up next Sunday in every Baptist church of the convention, while the endowment fund was placed in the hands of a special committee appointed Tuesday at the annual meeting of the executive committee of the Georgia Baptist convention at the chamber of commerce.

The thank offering is the most important annual collection of the Baptist church, officers of the state convention were informed Tuesday. The sum is to be turned over by each church to the executive committee of the Southern Baptist convention and used to make good obligations contracted by the church during the year.

"We know that Baptists have been called upon more than usual this year for financial contributions," Dr. Fred C. Cree, executive director, said Tuesday. "The losses incurred through Clinton S. Carnes proved a heavy drain on our membership but all of our people have responded nobly and we do not believe they will miss our goal when the reports are received on the thank offering. It is one of the biggest offerings we have ever had and we hope that the offering will be even larger than anything we have had."

Almost exhausted from his plea, the old man turned to his seat.

Preparations have been completed at Milledgeville for the execution of Sheppard, known as "the ax slayer." The old man said in a quavering voice, "I am the father of Homer Fowler. My son was murdered in cold blood, and I am here to do my part in seeing that his murderer is paid the death penalty."

Joyful Day for Most People

FOR EVERY CHRISTMAS LAUGH THERE'S A TEAR

Is Just Dec. 25 for Others

BY D. A. HALLMAN.

The happiest Christmas—and the saddest.

For every laugh, philosophers tell us there's a tear somewhere—either at this house or that or the next door.

Sitting here at the desk, thinking of happy Christmases—and of some that had their sorrow. Thumbing a telephone directory, wondering who will be happy this year and who will be the happiest at the Yuletide.

"Well, mister, guess I'll get that coffee. They promised me a job on the new building this afternoon. Merry Christmas."

And the tear shambles off down the street.

my wife is working—making just enough to take care of our two babies.

No, mister, I don't guess Santa Claus will be around this year—the kids are pretty small this Christmas and maybe by next year I'll be working again.

"Well, mister, guess I'll get that coffee. They promised me a job on the new building this afternoon. Merry Christmas."

And the tear shambles off down the street.

The First Married Year.

"The happiest Christmas?" she asks.

"Why I guess it was years and years ago—the first year I was married. We didn't have much but we were happy just the same. Oh, this year's not too bad but all married folk know how it is. Your first Christmases together means a lot."

There's the smile.

Another number and the same question—but a different answer.

"We lost our baby died the other day and this was to have been his first Christmas."

And there's the tear.

Turn a few pages—another number but the same question.

Earnest Dale, 1117 Lucile avenue, is another smile.

More numbers and more answers.

Walk on down the street—come to an employment agency—men standing about in front—waiting for work or anything, some just loafing, some laughing, and a few worrying.

The fellow leaning against the brick wall isn't too clean and probably he's out of a job because he won't work too hard. Maybe he's seen happier days. The question starts him—he ponders a bit—then laughs.

"How can a fellow be happy when he's out of work? How long have I been out of a job, you ask? About six years. My old woman died then.

Yes, we had a few happy Christmases before that—only we used to take money get a job and wouldn't let me drink. Now, I won't give you my name and don't write me up in your paper."

And there's a laugh and a tear.

Another Job Hunter.

Christmas last year was happy for the tattered looking chap a bit farther down—he had a job then—he's hunting

one now. It's all in the game now though—he hasn't a wi'

and he hasn't a family. It's all a laugh to him.

But on a bit—that old fellow over there. He looks mighty tired and sick of it all. He hasn't an overcoat and he's turned up the collar of his gray flannel shirt—it's pretty cold out there. He must be 45 but he looks older. Huddled against the wall there he keeps watching the bulletin board looking for work with Christmas just a week away.

"Say, mister, can you let me have a dime for a cup of coffee and a doughnut?" He greets you first.

He pocketed the quarter and turns to go on—stop to you question.

No Santa This Year.

"No, I never panhandled before—had a job until last summer when I got fired. Worked in the railroad shops. And I can't get work now—

so what?"

He's got a job now but he's still

panhandling again.

He's got a job now but he's still

panhandling again.

BROOM AND MOP
SHOP FOR BLIND TO BE ENLARGED

Plans for reorganization and expansion of the community broom and mop shop, at 455 Simpson street, were considered at a recent meeting of the members of the board, at which Harry Hirsch was chosen president. The shop was created in July, 1928.

and since that time has been employing eleven persons, eight men and three women. The board is made up of 29 members selected from the Community Employment service, the Georgia Association of Workers for the Blind and citizens at large.

The shop is now to have the support of the Community Chest as well as other organizations and the plan is to enlarge it to the point where it can give employment to a far larger number of persons than it now does, making them self-supporting.

The other officers chosen at the meeting were Roy LeCraw, first vice president; Mrs. Frank Lowenstein, secretary and treasurer, and Miss Frances Hunter, full-time manager of the shop. The managing advisory committee of five members was also chosen. It consists of A. H. Beall, J. P. McGrath, John Ashley Jones, J. J. Egan and Paul Donehoo.

PACKARD

NOW BUILDS THREE STRAIGHT-EIGHT MODELS

PRICED FROM

$2435 to $5985

AT DETROIT

PACKARD pioneered the straight-eight motor car in America. That fact is well known.

Now, like the vast majority of all multi-cylinder car manufacturers the world over, Packard has standardized the eight-in-line power plant. Every current Packard model is now a Packard Eight. That, too, is well known.

But what is not generally appreciated is that Packard builds three complete lines of Packard Eight cars—the Standard Eight, the Custom Eight and the De Luxe Eight.

The Packard cars in each line are fundamentally alike in engineering design, in quality of materials and craftsmanship, in the characteristic beauty of their body lines. Packard has but one standard. The models in the three lines differ in size, in detailed refinements of body embellishment and in the degree of individuality available to the purchaser in color, upholstery and body styles. Today there is a Packard Eight suited to the requirements of every man or woman who seeks more than mere transportation in a motor car.

The Packard Standard Eight

The new Packard Standard Eight is a powerful, fast and luxurious car, built on two popular chassis lengths—126 inches and 133 inches. The acceleration and smoothness so long associated with the Packard Eight is refined and enhanced in this new car. Every new feature including the unique Packard Shock Absorbing System is found on the Standard models.

Blind Magistrate Forsaken By All But Mother, Facing Count Involving $100,000

"Hard-Boiled Squire's" Parent Alone Defends Judge, Nemesis of Louisville Bootleggers.

Louisville, Ky., December 18.—(AP)—"Hardboiled Squire" Nisbet, whose thundering jail sentences struck fear into the hearts of bootleggers while he was magistrate of a local court, today lay on a sick bed here with only his gray-haired mother by his side, as his relatives, his friends and his church accused him of appropriating some $100,000 of their money.

From Louisville newspapers the story glared forth today in headlines and picture, but Albert Nisbet will never see it. He has been blind since he was 14 years old. The woman who sat by his side saw it, however, and she rose to the defense of her son. Although 50 years old and formerly the terror of liquor law violators, Squire Nisbet is still "just a poor, blind boy" to Mrs. Nisbet.

"If my son is in trouble," she said bravely, bristling to his defense, "if he has taken any money, he has been defrauded out of it." And, with tears in her eyes, Mrs. Nisbet related the story of Albert's struggle with life since the war. She had been a society leader for many years and had represented one of the best dressed women in Europe. She was noted for her lavish entertainment at her country estate near Windsor.

The princess contracted bronchitis a week ago and was treated with pneumonia. Princess Hatzfeldt died from a heart attack superimposed by pneumonia.

"He still comes to see me every day," said Mrs. Nisbet, "and often during the week. He's just a poor blind boy, but he is a precious man and makes contributions to charity; they get along all right, and everybody likes them. When a poor blind man gets sick and can't help himself he doesn't seem to have any friends."

But there are others, it seems, to whom the virtues of the blind former magistrate are not quite so apparent. There is one other, for instance, who saw the man who acted as building fund treasurer for the church is short approximately $40,000 in his accounts. And there is another elderly lady, Mrs. Emma Kessler, an aunt, who says she loaned Albert all she had—$10,000. Others, too, claim varying losses, even the widow of the deceased, asserting that he signed notes totaling more than $1,000 for "Squire" Nisbet.

They say today that the market "got him," that "get-rich-quick" plans to be financed on other people's money proved the undoing of the "hardboiled" squire. According to the Rev. A. K. Wright, pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle, he was taken ill suddenly.

ANOTHER CARGO OF DOPE SEIZED BY U.S. OFFICERS

New York, December 18.—(AP)—A seizure of narcotics said by federal agents to be worth more than $2,000,000 was made today at a Hudson river pier by special agents of the treasury department.

The outcome was obscure today, as no charges have been filed. Twice influential members and officers of the church met in secret conference, but apparently came to no decision.

CINDERELLA GIRL'S DREAM GETS JOLT; WILL IS MISSING

Asheville, N. C., December 18.—(AP)—Little Elizabeth Wright, the 14-year-old "Cinderella girl" who entered a fashion contest and a fortune left her in a safety deposit vault by her foster father, will have to wait a while before her hopes materialize.

When the box, which was thought to contain the will of S. N. Gurley, leaving half of his estate, was opened there was no will inside.

Before Gurley died he told Elizabeth that he had left his estate in her name. It was estimated roughly at $25,000.

Honest Bootlegger Is Given Freedom For His Honesty

Silver City, N. M., December 18.—(AP)—Antonio Cruz, so-called "honest bootlegger" of Santa Rita, who voluntarily brought his wife and sheriff's officers to his home to search it, was exonerated yesterday by a probation officer who had been unable to find it was discharged in district court here yesterday because of his action in the case.

Judge Denis J. Noromyle pronounced sentence after denying a motion for a new trial. The negro appeared in court, chewing gum, and apparently was confident of obtaining a new trial, he appeared dazed when he heard sentence pronounced.

Shanks was captured through tracing of the girl's wrist watch, which he disposed of for $1.10.

Aerial Experts

Back in Washington From Hawkeye

Washington, December 18.—(AP)—Orville Wright and 200 men and women, who made a pilgrimage to Kitty Hawk, N. C., to pay tribute to the Wright brothers yesterday, have returned here.

Many of the delegates from foreign countries, who planned to remain in the United States for further inspection of airplane factories and laboratories. Mr. Wright planned to leave for Dayton later in the day.

Jack Sullivan, said to be serving time for robbery in Arizona, Anita has recounted country-wide adventures to officers here. She is said to have lived once in Toronto, Canada, but denied this.

PRINCESS HATZFELDT DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Was Adopted Daughter of Collis P. Huntington of New York.

London, December 18.—(AP)—Princess Clara M. Wildenberg Hatzfeldt died today. She was the former Clara M. Campbell, adopted daughter of Collis P. Huntington, of New York.

The princess was the widow of a Prussian noble and had been living in England since the war. She had been a society leader for many years and was considered one of the best dressed women in Europe. She was noted for her lavish entertainment at her country estate near Windsor.

The princess contracted bronchitis a week ago and was treated with pneumonia. Princess Hatzfeldt died from a heart attack superimposed by pneumonia.

The death was sudden and unexpected as hopes had been held for her recovery. Miss B. Alger, her secretary and companion for thirty years, said that the princess died most peacefully. With her at the time were Miss Alice B. Harrison, her maid, and Mrs. Harrison.

The princess was childless and left no heirs to the large fortune which she inherited from Mr. Huntington, but it is understood that she was godmother to many friends.

There are others, it seems, to whom the virtues of the blind former magistrate are not quite so apparent. There is one other, for instance, who saw the man who acted as building fund treasurer for the church is short approximately $40,000 in his accounts. 6 SEIZED IN KIDNAPING OF TEXAN, LOST 3 DAYS

More Arrests Expected After Wink Cafe Proprietor Is Rescued.

Wink, Texas, December 18.—(AP)—Half a dozen men are in jail here and more arrests are expected as the result of the rescue here today of P. C. (Denver Blackie) Burcham, Wink cafe proprietor, who claims he was lost three days on the sand wastes of Winkler county after being kidnapped.

Burcham was found by Deputy Sheriff "Winkler Wall" Wood, who spent two days and one night in the saddle, dismounting only six times, during the manhunt which started when Burcham's plight became known. When found Burcham was unable to talk coherently because of hysteria and exposure, but he later charged several men in this oil community with complicity in the kidnaping. Those accused retaliated by charging that Burcham held up a $500,000 cargo of liquor bound from Juarez to the West Texas oil fields Friday, took the liquor and hid it. They asserted they had not intended to allow Burcham to drink, except that he had bound himself to a fence rail and thrown him into an empty water tank in an effort to make him divulge the location of the liquor cache.

"Denver Blackie" reputed to be an aide to "Scarface" Al Capone, Chicago gang leader, was much the worse for his desertion. For three days he had neither food nor water. His hands and face were sun and blistered and his tongue, which was swollen, was black and cracked.

GWINNETT COUNTY BANK SURPASSES MILLION FIGURE

Lawrenceville, Ga., December 18.—(Special)—For the first time in the history of Gwinnett county it now boasts of a million-dollar bank, the Brand Banking company having passed that mark Saturday for the first time since the institution was organized about 25 years ago. The bank is headed by the late E. M. Brand, father of C. H. Brand, congressman of the fifth district.

The Brand Banking company at its organization had a capital stock of $25,000. This was increased to $50,000 a few years ago.

At the close of business on Monday afternoon there were 1,000 accounts of $1,074,080.75, a gain of $128,233 over the same period of 1927. Total resources at that time being $946,433.37. Deposits show at the close of business December 17, $894,453.33, as compared with $776,549.09 the same date of 1927, and a gain of $117,904.24. Assets of the bank with banks shows $439,762. The officers of the bank are C. H. Brand, president; W. H. Powell, vice president; G. C. Montgomery, cashier; F. T. Pentecost, assistant cashier. The board of directors are C. H. Brand, chairman of the board; W. H. Powell, R. Smith, S. P. Craig and F. T. Pentecost.

COL. HALSTEAD HEADS NATIONAL GUARD AFFAIRS IN FOURTH CORPS AREA

Colonel Laurence Halstead has reported for duty at headquarters, fourth corps area, Fort McPherson, to take charge the corps area national guard affairs, it was announced Tuesday.

Colonel Halstead was graduated from West Point Military academy in 1890, and commissioned a second lieutenant of infantry. He was awarded the distinguished service medal for his services during the world war. He comes here from Schofield, Hawaii, where he has been on duty with the 27th infantry for the past three years.

Major William Denton, medical corps, now duty at the fourth corps area laboratory, Fort McPherson, has been ordered to the Army and Navy General hospital, Hot Springs National Park, Ark.

COUNCIL TO HOLD MEETING TO PASS ON ZONE ORDINANCE

A call for a special meeting of city council at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon to consider the proposed zoning ordinance was issued Tuesday by Acting Mayor Claude L. Ashley under a resolution adopted Monday afternoon by council. The city council meeting will take up the report of the ordinance committee, this committee having called a meeting for 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at which a public hearing on the proposed ordinance will be held.

The zoning law adopted under the 1922 ordinance was held unconstitutional by courts in the absence of a constitutional amendment. The amendment has been adopted, and the new zoning law therefore will overcome the defects of the old one, it was said.

FORT MCPHERSON WILL CELEBRATE HOLIDAY SEASON

The approach of Christmas day finds Fort McPherson preparing to celebrate the Yuletide. One feature will be an entertainment to be given on December 22 by headquarters company for the benefit of every soldier at the fort. The other biggest feature will be the big Christmas tree which is being prepared by the women of the chapel guild for the children of the fort. Monday afternoon will be occupied with exercises around the tree.

BUCKNER ADVISES EVERY SUFFERER TO TAKE SARGON

"I've Put It to the Test and Know What It Will Do," Says Atlanta
Railroad Man.

"I would like to see every man and woman in Atlanta who is suffering like I did take Sargon. If they don't go back after the second bottle, it will be because the first one made them well. I put this wonderful medicine to a test, so I know what it will do."

"Before I started taking Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills I had suffered day in and day out for two long years with what I believe was one of the worst cases of stomach trouble in the city of Atlanta. I had gotten so thoroughly rundown that I thought I'd never get well again."

"I honestly believe that if it hadn't been for Sargon I wouldn't be working today. I had such a bad case of nervous indigestion that I just didn't know what it was to sit down to the table and enjoy a good meal. It was only a matter of a few minutes after eating until I would be suffering again from indigestion. My stomach would burn like fire from raw food and bloating and gas would pain me so that I could scarcely get my breath."

"My kidneys and back also troubled me a lot. My kidneys acted too freely and sometimes it seemed like my back would just break in two, it hurt me so much. I had to give up my job quite a lot of lifting to do and I have seen the time when I could hardly straighten back up after stooping over. I know now, since taking the Sargon treatment, it was my liver that was out of order, and that my constipation and biliousness were caused by that condition. I used to eat a lot of meat, but I have given up all meat now. My kidneys act perfectly and my back feels as strong as ever. I am eating more vegetables, onions and anything else I want. You can't imagine what it means to sit down to the table and enjoy a meal for the first time in two years. I haven't felt a gas pain in my stomach since I took my first dose of Sargon. My kidneys seem to be back to normal again and my back feels as strong as ever. I am living a new life now, not calling it a strong laxative like I used to say any more, because just as soon as the Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pill began to act on my liver I was relieved of constipation. I'm just as regular as clock-work now."

"Not only that, but my nerves are now as steady as steel and I can go to bed get a good night's rest and get refreshed and able to put in a good, honest day's work."

"Sargon has done so much for me that I am taking a bottle home to my wife today. I am glad to have an opportunity of letting other people know how this wonderful new medicine has helped me and really given me a new life. I want other sufferers to know about it."

The above statement was made by C. E. Buckner, who resides with his family at 25 Adair avenue, Atlanta. Mr. Buckner, who is the father of five children, has been in the employ of the Southern Railway for the past 21 years and is well known and highly respected in the community where he lives. He is a member of local lodges No. 443 of the Masonic Order, a member of Atlanta Local No. 354 of the Carmen's Union, and attends the Baptist church.

The special Sargon representative may be seen at Jacobs main store, 6 and 8 Marietta street, where crowds through day to hear him talk about this new scientific formula that is accomplishing such remarkable results wherever it has been introduced. Sargon is also sold by the other Jacobs' stores all over Atlanta. —(adv.)

Elks' Christmas Benefit Tickets Are Selling Fast

The midnight matinee to be given Friday at Low's Capitol theater by all-professional talent for the benefit of the Elks' Municipal Christmas tree is making great progress and the sale of tickets has begun at a rapid rate, officials of the movement announced Tuesday.

The Elks have found so much more distress existing this year than usual that they have felt called upon to ask

the public to join them in a great Municipal Christmas tree which will reach many of the needy of the city.

All of the professional acts playing at the Keith's and Loew's houses here will take part in the midnight frolic, which will include all forms of entertainment, from jazz to grand opera.

Chief W. B. Cody, of the fire department, one of the vice-chairmen of the benefit, has been working daily with the Elks, of which he is a member, and firemen are selling tickets and assisting the Elks in a downtown demonstration to advertise the show.

The sack of food which the Elks distribute to unfortunate is said to be of the very best quality obtainable.

Enough to last a family of four for a week. The package of toys and candy distributed to the boys and girls contains fruits, candy, nuts and toys.

The sale of tickets at the box offices of the several theaters is showing good progress and they also may be purchased from firemen and at Limbach's, Murphy's, and the Hotel Hasty building, Weinstock's, and Sam Asher & Bros., Peacock arcade, and Sam Asher & Bros., at Peachtree and Auburn, at $1 each.

Effects Almost Immediate.

From the first few doses of Sargon, I knew I had finally gotten hold of the right medicine. I just wish I could tell every man, woman and child in Atlanta what it has done for me. My stomach is just as sound as a dollar now. My food digests perfectly and I am eating more gravy, potatoes, corn and anything else I want. You can't imagine what it means to sit down to the table and enjoy a meal for the first time in two years. I haven't felt a gas pain in my stomach since I took my first dose of Sargon. My kidneys seem to be back to normal again and my back feels as strong as ever. American Legion To Hold Holiday Party Saturday

The Atlanta post of the American Legion is planning a Christmas party to be held Saturday night in the ballroom of the Biltmore hotel, to which all members of the Legion, the auxiliary, members of Forty and Eight society, and their families and friends are invited.

The party is being sponsored by the Forty and Eight society and will be in the nature of a dinner-dance with a number of novel entertainment features included. The ballroom of the Biltmore will be appropriately decorated for the occasion and music will be furnished by some of the best known orchestras in the city.

The dinner will begin promptly at 7 o'clock and the dancing will start at 11 o'clock and last until midnight.

M. A. Snyder, chef de gare of the local voiture of the Forty and Eight society, and chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, states that the affair is expected to be one of the most enjoyable and best attended Legion social functions of the year.

"This party," says Snyder, "although sponsored by the Forty and Eight society, is for the Legion, their families and friends and we are going to leave nothing undone to make it a memorable event."

"Although it will be entirely informal, a real get-together affair, with the spirit of the season prevailing."

All legionnaires who expect to attend the party are urged to make reservations by calling the Legion office in the Mortgage Guarantee building.

Oglethorpe Co-Eds
Vanquish Mere Men In Intelligence Test

BY EVELYN C. SILVERMAN.

The college co-ed is often accused of "vamping" her marks, but she proved her mental superiority to the male student when the hard-boiled averages of recent intelligence tests were disclosed at Oglethorpe university.

The intelligence quotient, or "I.Q." for the freshwomen was 112, or a mental age of 18 years. The male rats fell slightly below this mark and averaged an I. Q. of 106, a mental age of 17 years. Three co-eds led the list of averages, scoring more than 180 points for their intelligence quotients.

The I. Q. for the entire freshman class of men and women at Oglethorpe was 108, a mental age of 17.25. Grouping the first-year students according to courses of study, the pre-law students led the list with an I. Q. of 150.5 points. The journalists came next, then the scientists, then the economists, the scientists, the commerce group and the education department students. Those students registered as "special" brought up the rear of the list.

ENFORCEMENT INCONSISTENCY.

Despite the fact that the director of federal prohibition enforcement had said that it would take $300,- 000,000 to enforce the existing law during the next fiscal year, both houses of congress, by practically solid republican majorities, refused any appropriation in excess of $13,- 500,000, as agreed upon in conference.

The action of the senate majority, in particular, was most significant.

Senator Bruce, democrat, of Maryland, had passed an amendment to the general appropriation bill boosting the enforcement item to $270,000,000, in keeping with the director's statement.

Senator Harris, of Georgia, acting with economic discretion, but seeking better enforcement, sought to amend the Bruce amendment making the item $100,000,000.

On Monday the senate republicans, by a party vote, with only three dissenting voices, reconsidered
the Bruce amendment, and restored the item to its original figure, which was concurred in by the house Tuesday.

Every democrat in the senate voted for the Bruce amendment.

The action of both houses forecasts a continuation of the farce of attempted "enforcement."

It is significant also as showing the attitude of the republicans in the face of their party's Kansas City platform, and the statements and declarations made in the recent campaign.

Prohibition enforcement was one of the paramount issues, and the republican party was heralded and promoted in the campaign as the
"dry" party.

Tens of thousands of voters supported it on that basis, and that alone.

With the exception of the first fifteen months since the Volstead act became effective—during which time there were fewer violations than during any similar period since —the attempted enforcement of prohibition has been under republican administration.

We have four more years of republican regime ahead, and—as indicated by the action of the republicans in congress—four more years of the existing miserable illegal whisky traffic.

Senator Harris, who forced the issue in the senate Monday by a motion to disagree to the conference report, is to be commended for his earnest efforts for greater enforcement efficiency along sane and sound lines, and for showing up the real attitude of his republican colleagues.

GEORGIA CONSERVATION.

Commissioner Peter S. Twitty, of the Georgia state board of game and fish, is doing a splendid service in the interest of general conservation. In a recent address delivered before the American Society of Civil Engineers, Mr. Twitty made it clear that the potential wealth nature of this state can be made, by proper conservation methods, productive of more revenue than the harvest of all our planted crops.

His treatment of the subject covered the streams, the forests, the great undeveloped possibility in minerals and raw materials of the ground, all of which, he said, are encompassed in the scope of conservation needs.

While the state, he said, is producing 25 minerals in commercial quantities today, and include in the list of available raw materials everything from asbestos to gold, there is little of these sources of wealth processed from the crude to the finished product, and almost no thought is being applied practically to the effect of present time usage upon future results—that is, there is little thought given to the broad subject of conservation in the sense that it means not only protection and saving of these resources, but the equally important matter of today's use of them.

Something of the same illustrative application was made to the waterpowers of the state, which the report of the geologist shows to have a money value, on a calculation of $20 per horsepower per year, or $10,000,000, or almost as much as the state collects in taxes.

"And yet," said Commissioner Twitty, "our geologist tells us that the value of this one resource, by proper use and development—which is conservation—can easily be more than doubled."

This brings up the problem of conservation administration, from an official standpoint. It is a problem that deserves the serious consideration of the next legislature. An earnest effort should be made for a systematic coordination of the state's various conservation agencies into one central administrative control, under a capable and qualified conservation director.

Such a suggestion is made in the general program for the reorganization of the state departments and bureaus into a more workable system by which friction, overlapping and lost motion may be eliminated.
By such elimination greater governmental efficiency can be secured at less expense.

COUNCIL ACTS WISELY.

Council acted wisely in approving a program for the standardization of Candler field to a class "A" airport. The Fulton county board of commissioners will undoubtedly cooperate to the same extent.

This is a matter that the Constitution has been hammering on for months.

Atlanta should and must be the outstanding airport in the south.

It is already a great airmail center,
and, based on contracts already made, it will in the near future be a passenger and parcel distributing airport second to none in the south.

The same conditions that made Atlanta a great railroad center and a distributing center for freight, express and parcel post will make it an air transport center, provided the city and county do their parts, in cooperation and coordination, toward making the field a standard port in conformity to the requirements of the department of commerce, which has governmental control of air navigation.

The establishment of a great army field at Shreveport, and a government flying school at Montgomery, centers air navigating activities in the southeast.

Navigating by air for all commercial purposes, as well as for national defense, is no longer an experiment.

It is just as firmly fixed as navigation by water, or as rail and highway transportation.

With the standardization of Candler field Atlanta will become the great southern crossroads for mail, defensive and commercial air transportation.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING.

There are only five shopping days before Christmas. As always, thousands of people have deferred their holiday merchandising and as Christmas day approaches the shopping congestion will increase.

The Georgia Power company is to be commended for its advertisement in Tuesday's Constitution under the headline, "Twas the Fight Before Christmas." Its concrete suggestions are so wise, constructive and sensible that every person should not only read, but be guided by them.

The street car officials pledge standard service, and if the citizens will cooperate it will be a happier shopping week—and there will be fewer accidents.

One never thought a dollar went so far and bought so much job as when one scatters dimes to the unfortunate along about Christmas time.

Since the vitamins in liver have been exploited the high cost of living is largely regulated by the high cost of liver.

This one-half of one per cent clause in the prohibition law was never intended to be the limit of enforcement.

When Mr. Hoover selects his cabinet from his Florida residence there will be those who will proclaim that lemons grow there.

We are advised by a know-it-all,
that to use soap in washing a raincoat. Or water.

The hoister-than-thou attitude may be caused by virtue, but a poor memory has something to do with it.

What we need is a cigarette without a cold in a car load.

The flu is not to be sneezed at.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

From Rome
To Israel.

A book that made a profound impression in France two years ago,
"The Unknown Sanctuary," by Aime Palliere, is now published in English translation by the Block Publishing company, of New York. M. Aime Palliere, a well-known figure in Parisian literary and liberal circles was, from his youth devoted to the Catholic priesthood. In time he became converted to Judaism and is now one of the most influential preachers of the French synagogue.
The evolution from Rome to Jerusalem is so rare that at the time of the author's conversion, his action aroused wide-spread comment. "The Unknown Sanctuary" retraces the steps of the road that led him to Judaism and is a remarkable study of the religious conversion of a Frenchman.

Washington, December 18.—(Special)—The recent meeting here of the International Civic Aeronaeronautic conference relates to me that memorable day when I was in London in 1909 and a telegraph came from Dover.
Major Blériot, a Frenchman, had landed there in his little monoplane in a successful flight across the channel from the shore of France. There was an immediate scurrying of news writers to the railway station and special train carried us to Dover to see the instantly famous mechanical bird and the stocky, modest birdman who had piloted it between the two countries.

An American Grabbed His Chance.

While the world was astounded by the feat of Blériot it still regarded it rather as a daring and fanciful adventure than as the avant cour-ture of a new era of common transport through the air—across the great oceans and around the globe!

Even we Americans who were prepared to believe anything were prepared to believe that the world was about to be transformed by such a gaudy and noisy affair.

Air Transport Is Actualized.

Now, within 25 years, air navigation has become a standard equipment of modern life. As President Coolidge told us when we here in the United States more charted airways than we had 25 years after railroads became a practical agency of travel and commerce.

The daily mileage flown now in the United States would reach more airways around the earth at the equator.
That one fact is enough to prove the tremendous progress our country is making in this latest art of transportation.

It Will Please Other Folks.

Of course it will please other folks
like those in Augusta, and Birmingham, and Nashville, who have Atlanta throw up her right and title to be the money center of the south. There are more single-motor ships in single-motor planes than ever before.
They are flying over the Rocky mountains and the Mississippi valley.

$500,000 ADDITION FOR SEARS-ROEBUCK

Two Stories Will Be Added to Big Plant on Ponce de Leon Avenue.

Plans for addition of two stories to the Sears, Roebuck and company's huge Atlanta plant on Ponce de Leon avenue to cost approximately $500,000. This was disclosed in a dispatch from Chicago received by The Constitution Tuesday night.

The telegram quotes Nimmons, Carr and Wright, Chicago architects, as saying that details of the project will not be given out at present, but that "plans call for addition of two stories to the present structure at a cost not to exceed $500,000."

The dispatch also carries an absorption by General R. E. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck, of stories published in Atlanta papers Tuesday afternoon of a proposed new $2,500,000 plant addition to the local branch.

General Wood declared the story "a wild pipe dream and a great exaggeration," according to the Chicago story.

L. H. Beall, general manager of the Atlanta branch of the company, Tuesday stated that he had received no notification of plans to build a $2,500,000 addition to the Atlanta plant. Further than that he would make no comment.

Announcement that an addition of two stories would be made does not come as a surprise in Atlanta since reports that this would be done have been current for some time. The addition is necessary by the large growth in business of the Atlanta branch of the company.

The dispatch from Chicago follows:

(By Chicago Tribune News Service.)

Chicago, December 18.—In a statement issued today in reply to reports in Atlanta papers that a new $2,500,000 plant addition to the local branch, General Wood declared the story "a wild pipe dream." General Wood stated that there would be an addition to the Atlanta plant, but that the $2,500,000 figure mentioned was a "great exaggeration."

The first of the two additions planned will be to Key West in Puerto Rico via various Cuban points, Haiti and the Dominican republic, a total distance of 1,260 miles. This route may be extended under the contract at the option of the postmaster general by the Leeward and Windward islands to Port of Spain, Trinidad.

The other route will run from Key West to the Central American coast, 1,610 miles, the way of Cuba, Mexico, British Honduras, the Republic of Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica, with the option of including Guatemala and Salvador, and extension to Colombia, Venezuela, Dutch West Indies, Trinidad, British Guiana and Dutch Guiana.

SANTA CLAUS PAYS HIS ANNUAL VISIT TO ATLANTA CLUB

Santa Claus visited the Atlanta club, composed of women employees of the city hall. Tuesday afternoon at the annual Christmas celebration held at the Hotel Georgia hotel, Maynard N. Ragsdale, Alderman Claude Ashley, mayor pro-tem, and City Comptroller B. Graham West were among the guests.

The Christmas tree was presided over by C. C. Brooks, of the city hall, while Eddie and Helen Lee St. Nicholas. Numerous gifts were distributed by "Santa." Mayor Ragsdale was presented with a music box and a "cow in the stall," while Alderman Ashley drew a black cat which executed a jig dance when wound up. Mr. West, to his great surprise, found that a bottle of "jam" given him contained a bee-like reproduction of a snake which shot out when the top was taken off.

The dining tables were decorated with varicolored candle lights, and vases of poinsettia and chrysanthemums. At the head of the table a beautifully lighted and decorated Christmas tree held presents for all.

After the luncheon, and a short business session, which was presided over by the president, Miss Lillian Everett; the club was entertained by a musical program, consisting of a saxophone solo by Lewis Enloe, accompanied by Miss Frankie Hicks; vocal solos by Mrs. Fannie Williams formerly with the Chicago Student Prince company, accompanied by Miss Lillian Everett; readings by Mrs. A. G. Maxwell, and a tap dance by Julian Harris.

The program was in charge of Miss Marie Aughton, Miss Carleton Babbs, Mrs. Annie Dixon and Mrs. Frauline Cray.

The club will hold its next luncheon on Tuesday, January 8, 1929.

AERONAUTIC BODY SETS ASIDE DATES FOR THREE MEETS

Washington, December 18.—(United News)—Three notable race awards were made by the contest committee of the national Aeronautic association today, including the national balloon race to St. Louis, May 4; the Gordon Bennett international balloon race to St. Louis, in October, and the 1929 air races to Cleveland, August 24—September 2.

The Cleveland race prizes total $100,000.

In addition the committee sanctioned a cross country race to St. Louis on May 28-29-30 for the Gardner cup. Flights will be to St. Louis from Jacksonville, Fla., Buffalo, San Antonio, Denver and Bismarck. Winner of the first races will race from St. Louis to Indianapolis and return for the cup.

Sufferer of Flu Weds in Hospital; Nurses Look On

INFLUENZA LIGHT IN NEW YORK CITY

Kansas Has Most Cases, With Malady Lessening in Far West.

New Orleans, December 18.—(AP)—While the bridegroom lay in his bed at a local hospital today suffering with influenza he and his fiancee were married with hospital attendants as witnesses.

The couple, Miss Dorothy Mendenhall and Dr. Marcus Cicero Stephen Noble, Jr., connected with North Carolina department of education, had planned to be married at Raleigh, N.C., but the bridegroom had to come to New Orleans to attend an educational convention.

So it was decided that Miss Mendenhall should meet Dr. Noble here and they would be married, going on to Havana for their honeymoon, as originally planned.

Miss Mendenhall arrived last night and Dr. Noble was not at the hospital when she arrived. She was greeted with the information that he was in a hospital with influenza.

Cupid refused to take the count, however, and they decided to be married today. Dr. Noble is improving and the Havana honeymoon will begin as soon as he is able to leave the hospital.

LATIN-AMERICAN AIR MAIL ROUTES Start in January

Washington, December 18.—(AP)—The two airmail routes designed to connect Key West with various Latin-American cities, which the president has contracted between the post-office department and the Pan-American Airways, Inc., are scheduled to go into operation about January 15.

Announcing this today the department said another international route had been proposed between Miami and Nassau, Bahama Islands, but no action has been taken on this as yet.

The first of the two long-hauling routes is Key West to Puerto Rico via various Cuban points, Haiti and the Dominican republic, a total distance of 1,260 miles. This route may be extended under the contract at the option of the postmaster general by the Leeward and Windward islands to Port of Spain, Trinidad.

The other route will run from Key West to the Central American coast, 1,610 miles, the way of Cuba, Mexico, British Honduras, the Republic of Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica, with the option of including Guatemala and Salvador, and extension to Colombia, Venezuela, Dutch West Indies, Trinidad, British Guiana and Dutch Guiana.

DIVORCED HUSBAND IN EX-WIFE'S HOME, HER MATE KEPT OUT

Lewiston, Idaho, December 18.—(AP)—What does a divorced man talk about when there's nobody much to talk to but her divorced husband?

That question stirred Lewiston somewhat today, while John Hall, barred from his own home and the society of his wife, raged vainly at the city council, which denied him entry, and forced his wife to stay with her former husband.

Protection of others by those having influenza was urged also, covering the mouth and nose when sneezing and coughing, washing cloths used for catching secretions, and thorough sterilization of utensils used in eating or drinking, being suggested as the best way of doing this.

Very Little Influenza IN STATE INSTITUTIONS.

Milledgeville, Ga., December 18.—(Special)—Very little influenza is prevalent in the state institutions here, according to authorities. Statements this week from Superintendent B. H. Newkirk, of the state prison farm, and Superintendent W. E. Irvin, of the Georgia Training School for Boys, indicated that there was little or no influenza at those institutions.

Some cases exist at the Georgia State sanitarium here, according to Superintendent R. C. Swint, but not enough to make the situation alarming.

GORDON INSTITUTE'S WORK UNINTERRUPTED.

Barnesville, Ga., December 18.—(Special)—Gordon college will close Friday for the holidays. Christmas entertainments have been planned throughout the grammar grades. While there have been a number of influenza cases in the college and grades, the work has been uninterrupted and will continue throughout the week.

SCHOOLS IN WINDER CLOSED IN PRECAUTION.

Winder, Ga., December 18.—(Special)—On account of influenza, as a matter of precaution the board of education has closed the public schools until December 31. A number of the schools of the county have been closed also. Where cases of influenza have developed it has been of a mild character than was experienced a few years ago, and no deaths have been reported from this disease. Some sections of the county have no cases, and it is believed by health authorities that it will soon be over here.

JULIETTE SCHOOLS NOT FORCED TO CLOSE.

Juliette, Ga., December 18.—(Special)—Christmas holidays for the public schools of Monroe county will begin Saturday and continue until Monday, January 14, inclusive, to accommodate by the county board of education and county school commissioner. Although a number of flu cases has been reported from various parts of the county, none of the schools has been forced to close. Most of the rural schools have arranged for Christmas trees and other Yuletide festivities at the close of the schools.

STATESBORO SCHOOLS CLOSED FOR HOLIDAYS.

Statesboro, Ga., December 18.—(Special)—The public schools here have closed until after the Christmas holidays and the local P.T. A. and Woman's club have called off their December meetings.

TAFT LOOKS INTO FALL'S CONDITION ON EVE OF TRIAL

Washington, December 18.—(AP)—Exact information on the physical condition of Albert B. Fall will be sought by Justice Hitz, of the District of Columbia supreme court, before acting on the motion to set January 14 for trial of the former interior secretary on bribery charges arising from the El Paso oil lease granted Edward L. Doheny.

The motion was filed by Atlee Pomerene, special government counsel in the oil cases, and District Attorney Leo A. Rover. Justice Hitz is expected to send a Washington physician to Fall's El Paso home to determine his condition. He was informed through Fall's counsel that physicians to the former cabinet member considered it dangerous for him to come to Washington at this time.

The hearing on the motion of government counsel, scheduled for today, was postponed.

RICH, HE ENDS LIFE

Fred Jacobs Smith, 46, Shoots Himself.

San Bernardino, Calif., December 18.—(United News)—Fred Jacobs Smith, 46, well-known manufacturer and son of Carrie Jacobs Bond, the famous song writer, committed suicide by shooting himself at his summer home at Lake Arrowhead, it was reported to the sheriff's office here late today.

ARGENTINE POLICE CONFIRM PLOT AGAINST HOOVER

Buenos Aires, December 18.—(AP)—

Police announced today that they had definitely confirmed that the recently frustrated bomb plot was aimed at the special train on which Herbert Hoover and members of his party were riding. The confirmation came as a result of obtaining names of the men who are under arrest in connection with the finding of the bombs and other equipment in the home of one of them.

Police said that the plotters had definitely arranged the time and place where the bombing was to have been carried out. It was agreed that when the train passed a sign by the side of the railway with the word "action" written upon it, a bomb was to be exploded.

You CAN AFFORD A STEINWAY... AND YOU CAN AFFORD IT NOW

A model for the home in which there is no space problem. This is the standard home size, and an instrument of amazing power and depth of tone.

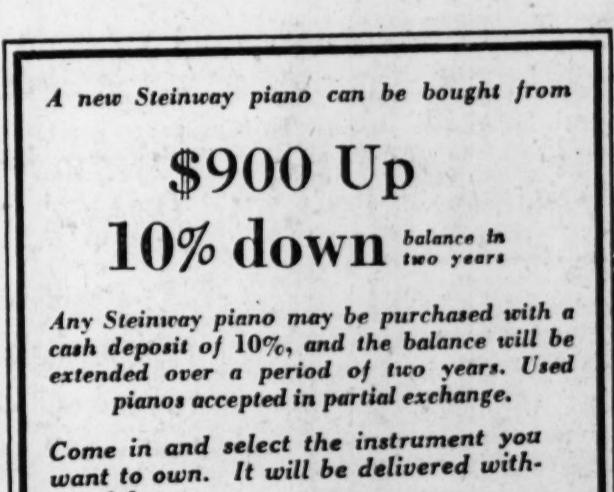

THE Steinway is everywhere so well and favorably known, that some people assume it to lie beyond their means. Yet nothing could be farther from the truth. The Steinway today is better than it has ever been, but the new deferred-payment purchase plan has brought it well within the reach of the most limited income.

You can have a Steinway now upon a 10% first payment—and two years in which to dispose of the balance. And when the two years are over, your Steinway will be just entering upon its long half-century of good and faithful service.

Consider this: A Steinway Ebonized Baby Grand, at $1,425 costs only $28.50 for each of its fifty years of probable service.

...Less than eight cents a day for the joy of owning the finest piano in the world.

You can afford a Steinway...and you can afford it now.

Ashley said that he held up his approval of the papers because he wants Mayor Ragsdale to pass upon them when the mayor returns to his desk this morning.

Contracts for general construction on the school buildings, Wagar and company, and on the tenth school to the National Construction company, under council's action.

The electrical jobs are divided between the McGaughy Electric company and the Whitmore Electric company. Council rejected the low bid of the Loft Heating and Plumbing company for the plumbing jobs on the schools, and decided to call for new plumbing bids.

All other council papers passed Monday were approved Tuesday by the acting mayor. These papers include one creating a symmetrist apartment for the city, a resolution allowing the mayor to serve more than two terms, acceptance of bids for paving Courtland street from Forrest avenue to North avenue, and for paving several other streets, and a paper designating a holiday Monday for city employees.

The resolution to close the city hall Monday was introduced in council by Councilman W. E. Saunders, of the twelfth ward, and in addition to declaring the entire day a holiday for city employees, authorizes issuance of the December 31 pay checks on Saturday.

The school contract papers and the airport development program will be acted upon today, it was said.

J. M. McMichael, 30, 100 Harris street, arrested Saturday in connection with the police investigation of the murder of Robert M. Brandon, was bound over to the city court Tuesday on a charge of vagrancy. Recorder Murphy Howney fixed McMichael bail at $200.

A charge of embezzlement filed by Detective John W. Lowe against McMichael, had been changed to one of vagrancy when the detective was unable to unearth evidence linking the prisoner with the crime.

John Recoder, attorney Tuesday, McMichael pleaded that he was not a vagrant, that he owned a restaurant in Spring street, and that because of injuries received in the world war he was unable to perform manual labor. The police, however, insisted that he is a "known bootlegger," and it was on their urgent plea that he was bound over by the recorder.

Judson M. Garner was chosen to head the Exchange club of Atlanta for the first six months of 1926 at the annual meeting held Tuesday at the Henry Hotel.

The club also voted a substantial sum to the Georgia Children's Home as a Christmas gift and set aside a sum sufficient to properly take care of the "Sunshine Special" for the community orphans next summer. The "Sunshine Special" is the title given by the club to its annual summer outing for hundreds of orphans from several Atlanta institutions.

Other officers elected were Carlton W. Biens, first vice president; Julian L. Hawk, second vice president; W. A. Smith, third vice president, and L. W. Conger, secretary and treasurer.

Raimundo de Ovies,
Dean of St. Philip's,
Arrives Thursday

The very Rev. Raimundo de Ovies, newly-named dean of St. Philip's cathedral, will officiate at services there next Sunday. Dean de Ovies will arrive here Thursday from Sewanee, Tenn., where he has been chaplain of the University of the South, to take up his residence at 1165 St. Charles.

A midnight service will be held at 11:30 o'clock Christmas eve at the cathedral by Bishop H. J. Mikell. The choir will sing the traditional Christmas carols. Dean de Ovies will conduct the services at 10:30 o'clock Christmas morning.

The installation services for Dean de Ovies will be held at 8 o'clock the night of December 30 at the cathedral by Bishop Mikell. All the clergymen of the city will take part in this service.

TIFTON HOST TO MEET OF TOBACCO GROWERS

Five Hundred Georgians Discuss Profitable Methods For Raising Golden Weed.

Tifton, Ga., December 18.—(Special)—Five hundred tobacco growers, county agents, specialists, agricultural agents of railroads, representatives of fertilizer companies, bankers and business men attended the annual tobacco conference held at Tifton today under the auspices of the Coastal Plain Experiment station, State College of Agriculture and the United States department of agriculture. Practically every tobacco growing county of south Georgia and a is a Prescription for Colds, Grippe, Flu, Dengue, Bilious Fever and Malaria. It is the most speedy remedy known.

Additional Improvements

Again the Louisville & Nashville Railroad has gone to market in order that it may maintain its property up to the standard which has always characterized the "Old Reliable." This large sum includes an appropriation of $7,800,000 for 24 new heavy locomotives, 1450 coal cars of giant capacity, 750 automobile cars, 300 box cars, 12 modern passenger coaches, 6 baggage cars, and 4 splendid all-steel dining cars, all of which are scheduled for 1929 delivery.

In addition to this equipment, 65,000 tons of 100-lb. rail, at a cost of $2,700,000, have been ordered, the delivery to begin at once.

The placing of these substantial orders should be encouraging to the people of the L. & N.-served territory in view of the fact that it evidences the Company's confidence in the states it serves, a confidence further accentuated by the fact that during the first nine months of 1928 the Company actually expended for new improvements a total of more than $9,250,000 and has authorized and outstanding an additional $7,800,000.

The recent appropriation of $10,500,000, therefore, makes the aggregate amount of work authorized and outstanding nearly $18,300,000. Many dollars of these appropriations will find their way into the territory in which this newspaper is published.

Atlanta Camp Fire Girls Tuesday held open house in the organization's toy shop. Toys and dolls have been collected by the girls for unfortunate children who otherwise might have been neglected by Santa Claus this year. Three local Camp Fire girls are shown in the above picture, surrounded by a few of the dolls which are ready to be dispensed to their new owners. The girls are, left to right, Misses Mary Frances Speights, Virginia Pair and Viola James.

HARRIS CONTENDS FOR LARGER FUND FOR ROAD PROJECT

Washington, December 18.—(AP)—Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, today asked for a conference on the bill for paving the Dry Valley road from near Rossville, Ga., to Chickamauga and Chattanooga National Military park in Tennessee. The bill was introduced in the Senate last week, but the latter withdrew the authorization of $80,000 for the paving to $40,000. Senator Harris will seek to have the larger figure reinstated.

The conference was pronounced one of the most interesting and enthusiastic meetings of its kind ever held in the state. The meeting was presided over by S. H. Starr, director of the Coastal Plain Experiment station. The Tifton station has been conducting elaborate experiments on tobacco for a number of years. The results of these various experiments were presented in an interesting and instructive way by the various speakers. The information obtained from the experiments has added thousands of dollars to the Georgia tobacco growers' income each year.

Farmers are now making their plans for the 1929 crop and turned out in large numbers in order to obtain the latest information on how to make the greatest money out of the golden weed. This year's crop of $5,500,000 pounds was the largest ever produced in the state. It was predicted at the meeting that the 1929 crop promised to be almost as large.

The tobacco growers were encouraged to produce quality tobacco rather than quantity. There is at the present time a large stock of common tobacco, but because of the higher grades is in good demand. Some pine beds have already been sown and shortly preparations for the 1929 crop will begin in earnest.

GEORGIA FARMER DIES OF INJURIES IN ACCIDENT SHOT

Griffin, Ga., December 18.—(AP)—A. D. Mitchell, 21, farmer, living near Hampton, died late yesterday 20 minutes after a shotgun he was carrying was accidentally discharged, the full load entering his body.

Intending to cut some wood and then go hunting, young Mitchell left the house with the gun in his hand and an ax in the other. The gun was fired when he stumbled over the woodpile. Members of the family heard the shot and came to his assistance.

A younger brother of Mitchell was killed about a year ago when a pistol he was inspecting was fired accidentally.

Martial Law Edict Issued in Kabul In Afghan Trouble

Peshawar, India, December 18.—(AP)—Travelers arriving from Afghanistan today said that martial law had been proclaimed in Kabul. Assemblies of more than five persons had been forbidden and a curfew order was being enforced with frequent arrests.

Apparently the truce signed at Jalalabad affected only Mohammedans. The rebels surrounded the Afghan troops at Nimla, near Jalalabad.

Copies of an edict calling on the people to obey their ruler have reached Peshawar. It was signed by 20 important mullahs and distributed in the Khost valley and at Jalalabad.

AFGHAN ROYALTY REPORT IS LATEST REPORT

London, December 18.—(AP)—The Afghan legation today stated that it had received information from Kabul denying reports received in India yesterday that King Amanullah and Queen Mahya had taken refuge in a fort after a revolt in the army.

The legation declared that the king and queen were residing at their palace as usual and that all foreign legations and foreign subjects were absolutely safe.

No revolt took place in the Afghan army, the legation stated, adding that the basis of the reports appeared to have been in a series of minor incidents on December 16 caused by a raid of a 1-piastre chieftain on one of the suburbs of Kabul.

Decatur, Ga., December 18.—(Special)—DeKalb county officers have seized, within the past two days, three automobile loads of whisky, totalling 224 gallons, and hold one man as the driver of one of the three liquor transports.

Officers W. H. Carroll and W. D. Nash on Monday night secured 65 gallons and one expensive automobile on the Flat Shoals road. Sunday Officer O. B. Royell got a car with 42 gallons on the Chamblee road and, also on Sunday Officers Nash and J. T. Brown made the record haul of the three when they captured a car, 117 gallons of liquor and the driver, who gave the name of Roy Trout. The latter automobile is said to be owned by a Macon man.

Central of Georgia's Petition To Discontinue Five Trains Postponed

Postponement of the hearing in the matter of the Central of Georgia railway's petition for authority to discontinue Trains 18, 20, 21, 22 and 23 between Macon and Eatonton and the establishment of a new train for this route was ordered by the Georgia public service commission Tuesday. The petition will be taken up again on January 22.

Postponement was ordered so that citizens of towns affected by the requested change might have opportunity to assemble evidence to support their protest against curtailment of service.

Petitions by the Southern, Atlantic Coast Line, Seaboard Air Line and Georgia railroads, asking authority to discontinue certain minor agencies on their lines, were heard Tuesday, but decision by the commission was reserved, to be announced following an executive session to be held Tuesday afternoon.

Endurance Plane Reaches Atlanta On Way to Coast

The giant tri-motorized army Fokker plane in which an endurance test will be made arrived at Chandler field Tuesday from Washington, en route to San Diego, Calif., where the attempted record flight will be made.

The plane under command of Major Carl Spatz with Captain Ira C. Eaker, Lt. Col. Frank Clegg and other passengers aboard, took off from Washington at 8:15 o'clock Tuesday morning, eastern standard time, and arrived here at 4:35 central standard time.

The big ship performed admirably on the flight here, members of the crew said, despite the fact that it was bucking strong headwinds most of the way.

A transfer of oil from the emergency tanks to the regular supply tank was made successfully while the big ship was speeding southward, and the machine responded perfectly to every test.

The ship will take off here about 7 o'clock this morning for Shreveport, La., the second stop on the way to the Pacific coast for an exhaustive endurance test.

An endurance was made in Washington Monday that the ship would take the air and stay as long as the machine functioned and the men aboard her were able to continue the flight. It was said the flight was designed as both a test for the endurance of aviators and airplanes and that fuel would be taken aboard in

XMAS PARTY FOR POOR Volunteers of America Plan Dinner.

A Christmas tree and a dinner will be given for the poor on Christmas day by the Volunteers of America at their home at 545 Washington street, it was announced Tuesday by Captain Paul N. Mason, new officer in charge of the home.

Taking the place of Captain D. C. Bell, Captain Mason comes here from Montgomery, where he had been engaged for six years as a juvenile officer.

The inmates of the Volunteers' home, all women and children, are badly in need of warm clothing and bedding. Captain Mason said, in requesting donations be sent to the home.

Holiday Shoppers Throng Streets Laden With Gaily Wrapped Gifts

With only five more shopping days left in which to purchase Christmas gifts, the streets are filled with happy, milling crowds, laden with gaily wrapped packages, gifts intended for relatives and friends, around whom the holiday season centers. There is magic in the word of Christmas, accompanied by memories which fortify it from every evil, with loved ones returning to the city to cement the family ties, for the romance of this season is most delightful. Social affairs rather take a secondary place on today's calendar because of this fact, but Miss Laura Candler, whose marriage to Edgar Chambers will be a brilliant post-Xmas event, will be honor guest at Mrs. John Snelling's luncheon given at the home of her mother, Mrs. Robert Marion on Howell Mill road. The military set out at Fort McPherson provide a program of entertainment inasmuch as Mrs. Lochlin W. Caffey's bridge-luncheon takes place at her quarters, while Lieutenant and Mrs. J. H. Joffe will be hosts at a tea-dansant given at the Officers' club, to which one hundred members of society have been invited.

Celebrating the Christmas season at Base Hospital No. 48 will be the program given by the Atlanta Junior Music club, presenting a musical program at 6:30 o'clock for the entertainment of the world war veterans. The program, which is under the direction of Miss Lenus Daniell, counselor, Atlanta Junior Music club, will feature solos, duets, and group numbers by the following members: Alvin Nissenbaum, violinist; Leo Tesler, violinist; Wilbur Kurtz, cornet; Lewis Silverboard, flutist; Alton Cobb, reader, and Annie Clyde Edgar, dancer.

Orphans' Aid Announces Annual Cake Sale.

The twenty-fifth annual cake sale of the Hebrew Orphans' Aid will be held Monday, December 24, at the Fulton market, 156 Alabama street. Large and small cakes of every description, particularly iced and decorated, will be suitable for children's parties. The public is cordially invited to call at the Fulton market early before these choice specimens are disposed of.

Any one desiring a special cake made for holiday parties may order it by phoning the president of the aid, Mrs. Leo G. Strauss, at Hemlock 0635.

The proceeds of the cake sale are used to clothe the children of the Hebrew Orphans' home.

Misses Orme To Entertain.

Miss Mary Phillips Orme and Miss Nancy Orme will entertain guests at a luncheon Thursday evening, December 27, in honor of Miss Louise Boone, of New York, who will arrive December 26 to be the guest of Mrs. William Candler and Mrs. Oda Tenbeatt Sperl and Miss Marion Calhoun, a popular young school girl, who will be the guest of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun.

The guests will include a number of the members of the college set.

Miss Smith Gives Lovely Christmas Dance at Home

Miss Bertha Lee Smith entertained at a dance at 9 o'clock Tuesday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Smith, on Peachtree road. The home, which was artistically decorated in a profusion of palms and holly, formed an attractive setting for the entertainment. More than 200 guests enjoyed the affair.

Miss Smith was assisted in entertaining by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Smith, and her sisters, Misses Lillian and Marian Smith.

Miss Smith wore a bouffant model of orchid lace, fashioned with mesh, and grace of handling. Touches of pink roses were introduced on the dainty blouse. She wore a shoulder bouquet of pink roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Smith was becomingly gowned in a model of green transparent velvet fashioned along straight lines and offset with a shoulder bouquet of pink roses and valley lilies.

Miss Marian Smith wore a straight-line model of tortoise blue transparent velvet, offset with a shoulder bouquet of pink roses and valley lilies. Miss Marian Smith was lovely in white satin fashioned bouffant, featuring a skirt graduated in length and edged with silk lace. Her shoulder-bouquet was of roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. H. H. Davis Heads Postoffice Clerks.

The Woman's auxiliary of local No. 32, National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, met at the Ansley hotel Sunday afternoon, December 16, and elected the following officers: Mrs. H. H. Davis, president; Mrs. F. L. Crespo, first vice president; Mrs. F. E. Price, second vice president; Mrs. G. L. Poole, third vice president; Mrs. H. S. Estes, secretary; Mrs. S. P. Crumby, financial secretary; Mrs. Kirby Bell, treasurer; Mrs. A. M. Sloan, parliamentarian; Mrs. F. F. Holland, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. J. F. Hunt, editor.

A number of interesting matters were brought up and discussed at the meeting. As a result of a membership contest between the Red and Blue parties of the organization, the former faction will entertain at an early date the ladies of the auxiliary and their families. Mrs. H. H. Davis, president of the Reds, has losers of the contest has planned a delightful program of entertainment. The Women's auxiliary to local No. 32, N. E. P. O. C., is composed of the wives of postoffice employees. Its function is one of real service.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Davis heads the following officers: Mrs. H. H. Davis, president; Mrs. F. L. Crespo, first vice president; Mrs. F. E. Price, second vice president; Mrs. G. L. Poole, third vice president; Mrs. H. S. Estes, secretary; Mrs. S. P. Crumby, financial secretary; Mrs. Kirby Bell, treasurer; Mrs. A. M. Sloan, parliamentarian; Mrs. F. F. Attractive Children Featured On Christmas Card of 1928

The photograph presents Thomas Whipple Connally and his sister, Sally Patricia Connally, children of Mrs. Thomas Whipple Connally, and the late Mr. Connally, featured upon the Christmas cards issued by Mrs. Connally.

A unique and very personal Christmas card issued by Mrs. Thomas Whipple Connally to intimate friends and relatives heralds the approaching yuletide.

This delightful card features photo-graphs of the charming children, Mrs. Thomas Whipple Connally and three-year-old Sally Patricia Connally, seated in a wagon drawn by a sturdy-looking goat named "Billy."

"Atlanta, 1928," is painted on the dashboard, and the smiling countenances of the children depict the pleasurable anticipation of the forthcoming Christmas season.

Santa Claus will steal down the chimney of their Peachtree road home laden with marvelous gifts for this dear little boy and girl.

One day in the early fall the Finally children were playing out in the yard when a traveling photographer spied them in the car and snapped their pictures. Then and there it occurred to their mother that suitable

Christmas cards could be made from

This attractive photograph.

Sally Patricia and Thomas Connally are children of the late Thomas Whipple Connally, one of the most beloved residents of Atlanta, whose death occurred more than a year ago after a long illness. They are the granddaughters of Dr. E. L. Connally, a pioneer resident who has resided at The Homestead, in West End, for nearly half a century, and their grandmother, the late Mrs. Mary Brown Connally, was the daughter of Joseph M. Brown, governor of Georgia during the civil war. William, the little Miss Connally is named for her paternal great aunt, Miss Sally Brown of Atlanta, and the little boy is his father's namesake.

Mrs. Connally, the lovely young mother of the subjects of this Christmas card, can be seen in her manager's to-morrow. Mrs. Connally was Miss Mary Raine, of Albany, N. Y.

There is an inheritance of aristocratic southern and northern lineage and these winsome children are among the most attractive and adored members of a large and prominent family connection.

West End Club
Makes Plans For Christmas Affairs

The West End Woman's club house has been beautifully decorated with ivy and Christmas bells, and instead of lighting a living tree, the ornamental iron arches around the terrace will be gayly decorated in Christmas greens and lighted with colored lights. As there will be a number of social engagements Christmas week, the business meeting for the fourth Wednesday has been cancelled, and the next business meeting will be held the second Wednesday in January.

The program for Christmas week will be December 25, Thanksgiving, Busbee dance; Thursday, December 27, West End Woman's club dance, sponsored by Mrs. Chester Johnson; Saturday night, December 29, Busbee dance. The evenings open for parties or dances are Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Anyone interested in securing a place to entertain can call Mrs. Chester Johnson, West 1985.

The West End Woman's club dances directed by the president, Mrs. Chester W. Johnson, Thursday evenings from 9 to 12 o'clock at 1100 Cascade avenue, are proving popular and the dancing set of Atlanta subscribes. The dances are restricted in order that the club may give high class enjoyment to the young people. Music is furnished by the Rhythm Kings—eight-piece orchestra, directed by Clyde L. Groover. These dances are chaperoned by club members, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Nunally, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Dickey, Mr. and Mrs. E. DeFreese, Mr. and Mrs. George White, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Gullatt, and Mrs. L. M. Ahern. The Junior club girls act as hostesses. For Thursday, December 20, they will be Nell Watson, Junior president; Miss Laura Johnson, Miss Elizabeth Greene. On entering the hall are given a number, and the two lucky ones are hosts for the following Thursday, December 20 the hosts will be W. T. Ragsdale and H. G. Cooper. Membership cards may be secured by telephoning Mrs. Chester Johnson, West 1985, or by seeing her at the door Thursday evening.

APPROVES SITE
FOR NEW LIBRARY

Formal endorsement of the site at the corner of Westwood and Cascade avenues for the proposed West End branch of the Carnegie library system, which would house the Uncle Remus Memorial library, has been given by the West End Business Men's Association, along with other bodies in the southwest section. A committee of business men has been appointed to work in conjunction with seventh ward representatives in the negotiations now under way.

The South Fulton Civic federation endorsed the site several days ago as an economical step in solving the library problem in West End. Not only is the lot in question centrally located, but the slight change necessary in the present structure would save the city several thousand dollars in building cost, it is pointed out.

The West End Business Men's association is planning the construction of an office building with auditorium facilities within the near future, according to a statement Tuesday by Hewitt Chambers, president. A committee has been appointed to work out the plans for financing and finding a suitable location. It is proposed either to organize a holding company from the membership or to finance the project direct by subscription.

"There isn't an auditorium in this section that will hold our membership by March 1," Mr. Chambers stated.

Hope Abandoned

Washington, December 18.—(P)—With a view to developing a new south Atlantic port for Florida and gulf states trade, Senator Fletcher, of

Florida, and Chairman Dempsey, of the house rivers and harbors committee, appeared before the army board of engineers for rivers and harbors to support in a project for federal development of the harbor at Lake Worth Inlet, West Palm Beach, Fla., at an estimated cost of nearly $2,000,000.

By the proposed federal construction, the 16-foot Lake Worth Inlet channel already developed by investment of $4,000,000 of local capital would be deepened to 25 feet, greatly increasing the shipping facilities of the harbor.

With a view to developing a new

This advertisement is repeated at the request of several leading Atlanta merchants in the interest of the Public:

“Twas the Fight before Christmas”

STORES, postoffice, streets and street cars jammed with hurrying, pushing throngs eager to make last-minute purchases.

Hard on the shoppers, hard on the clerks and hard on the street car operators, unless all of us remember that, being as thoughtful as we all intend to be, we can make things easier for everyone.

Traffic congestion is at the root of most of the trouble. Christmas shopping brings tremendous throngs downtown. The streets and sidewalks are crowded. Then, frequently, there is bad weather and traffic is slowed down even more. Daily, the congestion reaches its peak during the late afternoon. The afternoon rush hour, as thousands of workers hurry home, is a year-round problem, but in December thousands of shoppers pour out of the stores just as the workers are trying to get home, frequent traffic jams occur, street cars are delayed, and nearly everybody is greatly inconvenienced

You Can Help!

Yet many of these inconveniences can be eliminated by following the simple plan outlined below. We suggest:

1st. Shop as early in the day as possible. There are plenty of vacant seats on the street cars after nine o'clock in the morning. Then finish up your shopping and start home before four-thirty in the afternoon. You will find the stores less crowded early in the day and you will be able to ride to town and back comfortably and without inconveniencing those who can't start home until their day's work is finished. Let's think of these.

2nd. Shop by street car. At least during this one week, leave your automobile at home, in your own interest and for the sake of others. Every automobile brought unnecessarily into the downtown section increases congestion. (Follow Suggestion 1 and you can shop comfortably by street car.)

3rd. If you must bring your automobile downtown, don't park it on the street. Every inch of street space is needed for moving traffic during this week. Put your car in a garage or parking lot and help simplify the traffic problem.

These are the rules for a happier Christmas shopping week. Won't you help by following them?

We pledge ourselves to do our part wholeheartedly to keep your street car service up to the highest possible standard. Every available car will be in service during the rush hours. All of our supervisory force and traffic men will be on duty in the downtown section to keep the cars moving on schedule and to help clear up traffic jams. All of our trainmen will be on the alert to avoid accidents.

Won't you help?

Keith's Georgia.

Keith's Georgia offers this week a program of screen and stage attractions that is said to have a wide variety of entertainment. For the second attraction "Resurrection," a United Artists sound serial starring Dolores del Rio in the role of a fiery gypsy maid of many moods. This is said to be the best offering to date that Miss Del Rio has made. While on the stage Eddie Pardo surrounded by a group of specialty artists giving a variety of acts that is said to be entertainment de luxe.

Loew's Capitol.

"Memories of the Opera" produced by Caesar Rivoli is headline attraction at Loew's Capitol this week. Other acts are Dennis Chabot and Nonette Tortini, in a musical and comedy sketch; Moran, Warner and Margie in "College and How," Alice Deyo and company dancing novelty, and Mankin, the frog man. The picture is "The Wind."

Howard.

The Howard is offering a splendid bill of entertainment this week headed by "Outcast," one of the best pictures to come to Atlanta in many months. Beautiful Corinne Griffith plays the lead opposite Edmund Lowe in this story which made Elsie Ferguson famous overnight and spread its stage popularity from Broadway over the entire country. Two especially noteworthy Movietone talking subplots are drawing laughs.

Metropolitan.

Jack Mulhall and Gretta Nissen are costarred in one of the season's most delightful pictures, "The Butter and Egg Man," now being shown at the Metropolitan. It is the story of a young man with bundles of ambition who sets out to conquer New York—and almost does it. On the same program is a motion picture review of both the Tech team and the Golden Bears of California in the biggest games of the season.

Rialto.

The spicier college picture that has played in Atlanta theaters for so long time is being shown at the Rialto this week. "Pep and Pimp," it is, featuring David Rollins and Nancy Drexel. The location is on the campus of Culver Academy, in Indiana, and the story rings with truth and reality of college life, the students affording a colorful background. The story is packed with thrills and youthful romance which make real entertainment.

SESSION URGES BETTER HOUSING FOR NEGROES

SENATE TO CONSIDER STORM AREA RELIEF

Washington, December 18.—(AP)—Negroes must have more adequate housing and recreation facilities, especially in the larger industrial cities of the north, if their health and economic well-being are to progress, in the opinion of speakers at today's session of the National Interracial conference.

The problems of the negroes who have migrated to the northern industrial regions in great numbers in the last eight years are especially acute. Forrester B. Washington, director of the Atlanta School of Social Work, declared.

He cited thousands of negroes went north because of descriptions from friends of conditions there, but found things far different than expected.

Segregation of whites and negroes or the latter's entire exclusion from amusement places is spreading rapidly in the north, Washington added. This has resulted in some measure in crime and ill health among the negroes, he asserted.

Restricted areas in which the negroes must live has confronted them with a serious situation caused by high rents and "population density, with all its attendant evils," said J. Wootter, Jr., of the University of North Carolina, who added that many northern cities are "lax in the enforcement of sanitary and housing conditions in these districts."

HOSPITAL CHARTERED

Institution at Raleigh To Have 100 Beds.

Raleigh, N. C., December 18.—(AP)—A charter was issued today by the North Carolina secretary of state to the Harris Memorial hospital which is to be erected here with funds provided by Edward M. Harris, formerly of Raleigh and now of Philadelphia. One hundred beds will be provided.

The hospital will charge patients only the actual cost of the institution's operation.

Washington, December 18.—(AP)—The senate today agreed to consider on Thursday a bill by Senator Smith, Democrat of Massachusetts, calling for extending federal relief to the hurricane area along the south Atlantic coast.

The agreement was reached after Senator Smith objected to consideration of the $8,000,000 Porto Rican hurricane relief bill unless some arrangement was made to take care of the storm sufferers in continental United States.

The South Carolinian senator at first threatened to block a vote on the Porto Rican hurricane bill altogether, but finally withdrew his objections when various republican leaders gave him assurances that his bill would receive prompt consideration.

Senator Trammell, democrat, Florida, also abstained, but indicated his own consideration of the Porto Rican bill unless debate was ordered on an amendment by him to extend relief to hurricane sufferers in Florida on the same basis as in Porto Rico.

The Smith bill proposed loans to farmers in the storm area for the purchase of cotton, corn, legumes and vegetable seed, feed for work stock and fertilizer. The bill would authorize a total loan amount of $5,000,000, with provision that no more than $3,000 should be loaned to any one person.

Senator Trammell later, however, agreed to let his amendment go to the agriculture committee to be considered along with Senator Smith's bill.

Blind Treasurer Of Church Fund Short Big Sum

Louisville, December 18.—(AP)—The Louisville Times says today that investigators checking accounts of Albert Nisbet, blind treasurer of the building fund of the Baptist tabernacle, have discovered a shortage of approximately $100,000. Officials of the church met today to determine what action will be taken against Nisbet, who is ill at his home here.

Only $40,000 of the alleged shortage was from church funds, the remainder having been obtained from, or borrowed with the aid of friends and relatives, the Times said.

Following a meeting yesterday which resulted in first announcements of the default last night, representatives of the church congregation met again today with attorneys to investigate the situation and determine upon what action will be taken.

Mr. Wright, pastor of the tabernacle, announced today that only about $2,000 in cash was missing from the church funds of which Nisbet was custodian, and that banks from which he had borrowed on the church's account had granted extensions to allow "us time to straighten out matters before pressing for payment."

Mr. Wright said that Nisbet had admitted to him that he was short in his accounts but insisted that the money had been intrusted to another man for investment in the stock market and that the "other man," whose name was not made public, had embezzled the money.

The court overruled a motion of counsel for the road department and others interested in the proceedings to dissolve the restraining order and attorney general lost a few hours later in preparing an appeal to the old Spanish supreme court. The injunction order, granted on petition of Mark W. Monroe, a Quiney, Fla., banker, prevented the department from awarding contracts on a number of projects for which bids were opened about three weeks ago, the court said on which bids were received recently.

The court, after a hearing held Saturday, partially dissolved the injunction to the extent that Escambia and Suwannee counties were permitted to proceed with projects on the old Spanish trail around Naples. Judge Love, ruling that as those contracts were to be carried out with county funds, they should not be included in the injunction order.

ANNUAL FARMERS' WEEK AT ATHENS JANUARY 21 TO 26

Athens, December 18.—(AP)—The 22nd annual farmers' week and marketing conference will be held at the Georgia State College of Agriculture January 21 to 26, according to announcement by Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the college.

State-wide importance has been attached to this year's conference, Dr. Soule said, and attendance at the 1929 sessions is expected to surpass that of any previous year.

Among notables who will address the conference are Governor L. G. Hardman; Dr. Lee M. Hutchins, U. S. physician; laboratory pathologist, of Fort Valley; Mrs. Caroline B. King, home economics editor of The Country Gentleman; W. C. Veer, president of the Georgia Bankers' association; Bishop W. B. Beau champ, of the North Georgia Methodist conference, and Dr. John D. Mell, president of the Georgia Baptist association.

WRIT TO PREVENT ROAD CONTRACTS MADE PERMANENT

Tallahassee, Fla., December 18.—(AP)—Judge E. C. Love in circuit court for Leon county held today in effect that the injunction granted recently restraining the state road department from awarding certain road and bridge contracts over Florida should be made permanent.

The court overruled a motion of counsel for the road department and others interested in the proceedings to dissolve the restraining order and attorney general lost a few hours later in preparing an appeal to the old Spanish supreme court.

The injunction order, granted on petition of Mark W. Monroe, a Quiney, Fla., banker, prevented the department from awarding contracts on a number of projects for which bids were opened about three weeks ago, the court said on which bids were received recently.

Eastern Grid Stars Arrive For Practice

Players Work Out on Coast for New Year's Game With Western Team.

San Francisco, December 18.—(P)—Eastern football stars who arrived here today to start training for the annual east-west charity game, sandwiched in a short workout with several rounds of pleasure.

After a parade up Market street and an official welcome by Mayor James Rolph, the squad journeyed to Oakland to be feted. Coaches Andy Kerr, of Washington and Jefferson, and Dick Hanley, of Northwestern, sent the players through an hour's practice at Oakland baseball park. It consisted of kicking and passing.

The team will work out in San Francisco Wednesday and Thursday and will leave for Stanford on the following day to remain there until a few hours before game time. Twenty-one players arrived today while Walt Holmer, Northwestern fullback, is due Saturday. Holmer was delayed by scholastic examinations.

Those arriving:

Ends—Sweet, Carnegie Tech; Haycraft, Minnesota; Delp, Minnesota; Johnson, Northwestern.

Tackles—Nowack, Illinois; Raskowski, Ohio State; Wagner, Wisconsin; Getto, Pittsburgh.

Guards—Thompson, Lafayette; Fox, Pittsburgh; Gibson, Minnesota; McMillan, Nebraska.

Centers—Hill, W. and J.; Mitchell, Bucknell.

Quarterbacks—Harpster, Carnegie Tech; Levison, Northwestern; Weston, Boston College.

Halfbacks—Bennett, Indiana; Letzler, Carnegie Tech.

Fullbacks—Guest, Lafayette; Howell, Nebraska.

Members of the Western team will begin arriving here tomorrow.

Morgan-Sangor Fight All Set

Milwaukee, Wis., December 18.—(P)—Tom Andrews, matchmaker for the championship bout between Jimmie Sangor, Milwaukee junior Johnnie, and Tod Morgan, announced today that the fight would go through despite Sangor's statement after he was knocked out by Armando Santiago, Cuban boxer, last night, that he was "through with the fight game." The bout is set for New Year's day at the auditorium here. Andrews, however, now was determined to vindicate himself. He was knocked out in two rounds at Chicago last night by Santiago.

The final touch to a perfect entertainment was furnished by a troupe of vaudeville artists from Keith's Georgia theater, brought to the luncheon by Montgomery Hill, whose ability to procure good entertainment for Rotary luncheons was given a decided boost Tuesday.

Another Rotary Triumph.

ATLANTA'S ROTARY CLUB has a reputation for staging completely sensible parties of one form and another and their luncheon Tuesday in honor of the Georgia Tech Tornado failed to injure this reputation in the least.

Football players are always embarrassed by serious lectures and entirely unembarrassed by gentle kidding and good food. They were given much of the last and little of the first at the luncheon and went away entirely satisfied.

When they took their places around the big table in the center of the room they found at each place a Christmas package bearing a leather kit embossed with a "T" and the initials of each player. This little remembrance placed them all in a good humor to partake of roast chicken and dressing, providing, of course, they were not already in that humor.

After the meal Coach Alexander, the all-American mentor, was called upon to introduce players, coaches, managers and newspapermen present. This performance called for the usual applause and the usual number of blushes from individuals being introduced. Whatever else may be said of the members of Tech's Golden Tornado, it cannot be hinted that they are brazen in their public appearances.

The meeting was then turned over to "Ferd" Kauffman, who is the "man behind the gun" at all the Rotary-Tech affairs, and he called upon Rev. High Moor, of St. Luke's Episcopal church, for an address. Rev. Moor proved his undisputed claim to being a man of great ability and discretion by delivering a very short, very witty and very pithy message without a vestige of maudlin moral but bearing enough punch to make a deep impression on his hearers. His was one after-dinner address that was hardly long enough. Such a thing is a great rarity and more appreciated therefore.

Jake Harris was the next to take the floor, and to those who know Jake nothing more need be said. In case someone doesn't know Jake, let it be chronicled here that he is one of the finest humorists in the country today and his efforts of Tuesday were specimens of his best art. He described his trip to the coast two years ago with Alabama and finished his address with the reading of some telegrams from movie stars to members of the team and coaches. These telegrams were too numerous and too lengthy to reproduce here, but they should be bound and treasured as masterpieces of humor. Jake Harris should be publicity manager for all the stars he impersonated in these alleged misses. They would have no need of divorce courts to give them publicity if Jake would feature them in his inimitable humor.

The final touch to a perfect entertainment was furnished by a troupe of vaudeville artists from Keith's Georgia theater, brought to the luncheon by Montgomery Hill, whose ability to procure good entertainment for Rotary luncheons was given a decided boost Tuesday.

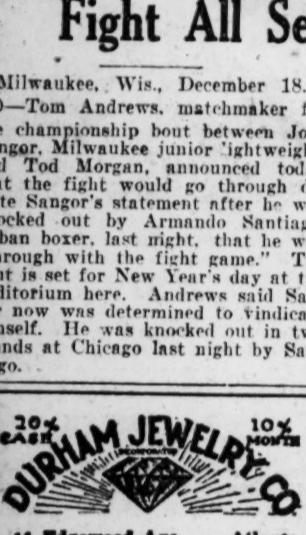

81-Round Played By Glenna Collett

Pinehurst, N. C., December 18.—(P)—Miss Glenna Collett, of Providence, R. I., national woman golf champion, played her first round of golf since her arrival at Pinehurst last Sunday, scored the round in 81 strokes today over the difficult No. 1 championship course here. She was playing a friendly foursome with R. T. White, Bayonne, N. J., who had an 88; R. J. Francisco, of Rutland, Vt., 88, and O. S. Hutchinson, of Detroit, 90.

Miss Collett went out in 38 strokes and came back in 43.

Snappy Weather Sends Boys Hustling Through Paces on Grant Field.

The American Boy Will Feature Jackets

Couch William A. Alexander and the members of the Golden Trimmed who have involuntarily played the roles of heroes for so many boys of the south will find their prowess spread to millions of boys of the nation as the result of their trip to the coast.

The was assured Tuesday when Franklin Rock, staff writer of "The American Boy," was given permission to join the team train and travel to the coast with the view to writing a series of articles on football, coaching and playing. This group will be the first to make the value of Tech's example as it can be placed before the boys of the nation and its series of articles will be handled from a Tech angle, according to "American Boy" editors who asked permission for their correspondent to follow the team.

BY DICK HAWKINS.

The long disputed question of when the Golden Tornado of Georgia Tech will leave for California and the Rose Bowl has finally been answered by Coach Alexander. To be more exact, the question has been partially answered.

The team will entrain for the Pacific coast Thursday afternoon, but the exact time of leaving is not yet definitely decided. The two specimen bearing the members, coaches, newspapermen and others of the faculty will be packed on one of the west-bound trains leaving tomorrow afternoon, but just which train will haul the cars is not announced.

Seven Days for Work.

After leaving, the itinerary is rather uncertain except that the cars will follow the so-called "Highway to California" and are expected to reach Pasadena sometime Sunday night. If this schedule is adhered to, the team will have an opportunity to practice in the California climate for seven days with the Sunday before New Year's Day extended. In that length of time the players should be able to overcome any handicap the climate may place on them.

Tuesday's practice, run through in weather much different than that which persisted Monday, was a hummer. The air bore a tang which had the boys sniffling and they worked hard on punting and passing, but brought it to a close early to hold the setting up drill.

From the character of these last two workouts it would seem that the team will again enter the Rose Bowl competition followed by a period on the bucking machine for the linemen, while the backs, with Wadley and Herron, went through a drill on every pass play in the Jagger bag.

Dunlap and Mizell were doing the tossing and both were making their hair stand on end. The man delegated to snug the effort was playing target most admirably.

The whistle brought the Engineers to midfield again, and the split into teams was effected. The two varsity outfits, which were lined up in mixed crews, went through their usual paces, while the little ones of the Bears under Captain Robinson were again learning their respective parts.

This afternoon's practice will probably be the last of the season for the Jackets on their home lot, for, with getting last-minute preparations made, the boys and the coaches will have little time Thursday to work on the team. The little ones, however, this afternoon will probably finish up the year at home for the Golden Tornado. What practices are held in California will be devoted to heavier work.

Winn Will Submit 1929 Racing Dates

Yankees Prove New Baseball Style Is Best

New York Americans Find One Run Not Enough, So Score Tallies Aplenty.

BY WALTER TRUMBLE, Copyright 1928, by North American Newspaper Alliance.

New York, December 18.—(AP)—In baseball, as in football, there are two distinct styles of play. A team may rely either upon power, or it may depend upon deception and finesse. The first system means trying for a flock of runs. The second means building up a total by playing for one run at a time.

It was the Baltimore Orioles, who developed this second system to great efficiency. That team, with such men as McGraw, Jennings, Keeler, Kelley and Robinson, was adept at getting man to first and then bringing him around the bases and across the plate. Those players were masters of the art of sacrifice, the running bunt. They knew how to protect the runner and how to hit back of him. They worked the steal and the double steal. They played baseball with their heads.

For Trouble. Any pitcher who faced them was in for trouble. McGraw's team was of course very skillful at fouling off good balls that a large part of the time they reached first on a pass. McGraw one season is said to have reached first in some manner three times out of every four he went to bat. They used to say that Hughes Jennings would rub dust into the front of his shirt, crowd him in, hit any inside ball and the dust out and then shout that he had been hit in the ribs by the ball—and get away with it.

Other teams which played the same brand of ball were the White Sox under Fielder Jones, who gained the name of Hitless Wonders, and the teams led by McGraw who had on them such speedy men as Merkle, Dugan, Herzog, Sauer, Fletcher, Murray, Devore and Snodgrass. Those men got to first and then stole their way around.

Yankees Set Style. Teams such as the New York Yankees set the new style. McGraw's team, based on the theory that no pitcher can hold them in check for nine innings, may hold them helpless in eight sessions, but all they ask is one inning of hitting. When they do start to hit, a pitcher is on his way to the showers and the ball game is as busted up as an egg dropped from the Washington monument.

Ruth scored 163 runs last season. Gehrig scored 139. They each batted in 142 runs and Bob Meusel batted in 113. Earl Combs scored 118 hits. Ruth made fifty-four home runs, while Greenleaf took the measure of himself in Rudolph, Chicago, 125 to 95 in 14 innings.

No long runs featured the trips of the angle champion to the green covered table, but he averaged better than a billiard an inning to run out in the fastest game of the tournament. In contrast, Greenleaf pocketed 55 balls struck out of fifteen of his game with Rudolph, which was the shortest of the pocket tournament.

Reiselt stayed in the running with Layton with spectacular shots and infrequent runs of five and six. His brilliance, however, could not offset his many kiss-off shots and match the consistent shot-making of his opponent.

In his game with the pocket champion, Rudolph got the jump on Greenleaf with runs of 16 and 18 in the second and fourth innings, respectively, but Greenleaf got started in the fifth inning and before he left the table had run 55 balls.

As is usually the case with statistics, the main thing to be gathered from all this is that the Yanks and Athletics made a two-club race of it and are not wholly unlikely to do it again.

Tilden in Conference With Tennis Officials

Former Champion Silent However; Matter To Come Up Before U. S. L. T. A. in February.

New York, December 18.—(AP)—Big Bill Tilden was in town today and went into a huddle with representatives of the United States Lawn Tennis association for the first time since he was barred from amateur courts by that body August 25.

The huddle took place quietly in the offices of the U. S. L. T. A. and lasted for an hour. It was generally peaceful but Tilden did share his thoughts with the special guardians of the amateur rule confer with Tilden to learn his attitude.

"You will have to ask the Tennis association about that," said Tilden when questioned about the conference, although he was perfectly willing to talk about his status, from which he is having a week's holiday.

Members of the amateur rule committee of the U. S. L. T. A. were fully informed, pointed out that this information cannot be made public until the committee presents its report to the executive committee at the meeting in Boston in February.

Today's confab with Tilden was arranged in accordance with the resolu-

J. P. C. CAGERS PLAY CUMMING QUINT TONIGHT

Chicago, December 18.—(AP)—John Layton, the fisherman from Missouri, and Ralph Greenleaf, the 28-year-old eight times pocket billiard champion, demonstrated today the type of billiards that will have to be excelled if they are to be dethroned as three-cushion and pocket billiard champions, respectively, in the combined championship tournament.

Playing the same steady billiards that carried them to national titles last spring, Layton defeated Otto Reiselt, Philadelphia, former holder of the amateur title, 50 to 40 in 38 innings while Greenleaf took the measure of himself in Rudolph, Chicago, 125 to 95 in 14 innings.

No long runs featured the trips of the angle champion to the green covered table, but he averaged better than a billiard an inning to run out in the fastest game of the tournament. In contrast, Greenleaf pocketed 55 balls struck out of fifteen of his game with Rudolph, which was the shortest of the pocket tournament.

Reiselt stayed in the running with Layton with spectacular shots and infrequent runs of five and six. His brilliance, however, could not offset his many kiss-off shots and match the consistent shot-making of his opponent.

In his game with the pocket champion, Rudolph got the jump on Greenleaf with runs of 16 and 18 in the second and fourth innings, respectively, but Greenleaf got started in the fifth inning and before he left the table had run 55 balls.

As is usually the case with statistics, the main thing to be gathered from all this is that the Yanks and Athletics made a two-club race of it and are not wholly unlikely to do it again.

It is noticeable that of the seventeen players who were credited with winning a major title in 1928, only one was a Yankee. Clancy, of Chicago, had twenty-nine sacrifice hits; Kann, twenty-eight and Metzler twenty. Lind, of Cleveland, had twenty-seven; Sewell twenty-five; Summa twenty; Moore, Myers, Kremer, of St. Louis, had twenty-six; O'Rourke twenty-five; Mannix twenty, and Blue twenty. Meyer, of Boston, had twenty-six, and Regan twenty-one. Judge, of Washington, had twenty-three, and Goslin twenty. Cochrane and Boley, of Philadelphia, each had twenty-one.

Cleveland and St. Louis appear to have more sacrifice hits than Philadelphia and New York to have profited least. But this is not true when all the members of the teams taken into account. As a club, St. Louis did make the most sacrifice hits with Boston next. New York had the fewest sacrifice hits, with Detroit next.

On the other hand, New York hit for the most total bases, with the Athletics second and Detroit third.

Boston hit for the fewest total bases, with Chicago second, Chicago stole the most bases, with Detroit second and Washington third.

New York, December 18.—(P)—

Prices rallied in the cotton market today after a midday decline on somewhat larger private ginnings figures than expected and closed steady at advances of 3 to 5 points. After having sold off from 20.28 to 20.13, January just about recovered its loss, closing at 20.26.

The market opened steady at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 4 points and sold off a point or two right after the call under southern hedging, which was the highlight promoted by the indifferent showing of Liverpool. These initial offerings were quite readily absorbed, by trade buying and a moderate commission house demand, or covering. The latter probably was influenced by a favorable view of reports from the cotton goods trade and reports of future goods trade and reports of further gains in the south.

Actual ginnings were about 4 to 9 points net higher with December advancing to 20.28 and May to 20.20, but offerings increased at these figures.

The selling became a little more active after the publication of two private reports, one of which estimated ginnings to December 13 at 13,121,000 and the other at 13,270,000 bales.

The latter was evidently somewhat above expectations and for a time the market was rather quiet, but settled with December selling off to 20.22 and May to 20.11, or 8 to 12 points net lower. Offerings tapered off after the midday selling had run its course, however.

The market firmed up during the afternoon on buying which seemed to come partly from western sources and which was said to include covering and price fixing. The losses were just about recovered. The losses were just up to 20.40 in the last session and closing prices were within a point or two of the best for the day on most positions. December notices estimated at about 4,000 bales were reported early and led to some liquidation, but it was absorbed without much change in differences.

Exports today 80,580, making 4,17,074, so far this season. Port receipts 63,921. U. S. port stocks 2,05,670.

COTTON RALLIES ON BXING ORDERS.

New Orleans, December 18.—(P)—Pre-holiday influences coupled with fears of what the official ginnings report may show Thursday restricted trading in the cotton market today and although prices eased off in early trading under selling promoted by a heavy slate of ginnings estimate they rallied later on buying by leading western interests.

March contracts which had traded off to 19.60 rallied and closed at 19.63 or 2 points net up. The general market closed steady net unchanged to 1 point up.

Liverpool cables were rather disappointing at the start here and first trades showed losses of 4 to 5 points. A decline of a point or two additional after the start met a demand prompted by the unfavorable weather in the belt and January sold up to 19.64. March 19.73 and May 19.67 or 9 to 10 points above the initial losses of 4 to 5 points over the month's close. This gain was soon lost, however, when a large private ginnings estimate were confirmed. The report when issued gave a total of 13,270,000 bales ginned prior to December 13. Before the offerings induced by the report were absorbed January eased off to 19.50, March 19.60 and May 19.54, or 4 to 4 points under the highs and 5 to 10 points below the previous close.

In the afternoon demand became more aggressive, probably due to the more favorable cotton goods news and reported buying by western traders. The large exports for the day helped the advance which ultimately carried January to 19.60, March 19.69 and May 19.63 or net unchanged to 10 cents up.

Final prices were near the top with July contracts showing the maximum advance of four points.

Receipts 68,924; for week 152,580; for year 6,660,024; last year 5,864,202. Exports 50,580, making 4,17,074; for year 4,325,338; last year 3,70,006. Stocks 2,343,882; last year 2,05,670.

Money Drop Ignored.

The drop in the call money rate failed to inspire any ambitious undertakings, with 30-day time money at 8 1/4 per cent, the highest rate in 8 years. Bankers explained that the abundance of call money was not surprising in view of the credit resulting from the unexpected large government purchases of the same rate, estimated at $250,000,000, in connection with the treasury refining Saturday. The treasury will withdraw about $86,000,000 of its deposits tomorrow, and is expected to pay off the entire overdraft within the next few days.

Although bankers had generally predicted that the expected money stringency would make itself felt today, call money renewed at 7 per cent and again dropped to 6. This encouraged overdrafting for the past two sessions, while the rails gained nearly a point.

THE YOUNG PRETENDERS

By Alice Grant Rosman

SYNOPSIS

Lying helpless in bed after a motor accident, Hugo Dumbell is too weak because his father, whom he'd quarreled just before the smash, never visits him. He doesn't even know his name. Eddie Mostyn, his aunt, tells him his friend Paul Mostyn is in prison for stealing; that he married a woman who had family disappears, and that Bunny Mostyn is dead. Hugo is compelled to marry Paul.

Bunny has been the victim of blackmailers. She is shocked that his family failed him. The girl assures Hugo she was never encouraged to make him like it because of their lifelong friendship. Hugo gives her his rooster, which he calls Miss Teakettle.

Paul's wife, living in disguise as Mrs. Balliett, accepts an offer to become Hugo's nurse. She is the only one who is open to study these friends of Paul, whom she believes his enemies, and is surprised to learn Hugo is a loyal son. From his account of his past, she learns from telling Paul Right, Hugo's nurse, cautions Mrs. Balliett not to mention the boy's father, as the night fair Richard had died. She is still while delirious that the doctors advised his keeping away. Hugo and his reader become close friends.

For Robin had rolled the years back and was seeing again Bunny as he had first seen her in the family summer house—the sea—a thin, brown, independent little creature, and though the youngest of them, immediately an individual to the group of children who had forcibly befriended her.

Hugo was smiling all over his face, for Robin had come to see him again. "He is always glad to see me," she observed: "You do use nice long words. Say, I'm more respect to you than that she sat throughout ten weeks with her tiny little elbow on the table and her head in her hands, expecting me to perform for her. I have a very strong suspicion," added Robin brightly, "that I have been doing nothing else ever since."

Hugo was smiling all over his face, for Robin had rolled the years back and was seeing again Bunny as he had first seen her in the family summer house—the sea—a thin, brown, independent little creature, and though the youngest of them, immediately an individual to the group of children who had forcibly befriended her.

It was very lucky that you looked so fierce, wasn't it?" said Hugo in a burst of congratulation, "because if you hadn't, I might have given Bunny the sort of guardian who just hated her, or else a sloppy fool she'd have simply loathed."

He was appalled at the risks Bunny had run in being an orphan, at the mercy of lying old judges. And yet, when he came to think of it, people were not always to blame.

Look at old Paul and the Australian children how badly they had come off in this! And Donaldson, Richard, Kt! Having a personage for a father, who only thought of his own dignity and wouldn't give chap the benefit of the doubt, was not much of a catch. Hugo knew.

"Any such thing as you describe," said Robin, presumably referring to the "sloppy fool," "would no doubt have retired as did my predecessor, suffering from nerve strain, which in some women is an excellent excuse for not having babies."

However, such an mentality did not arise. I trust that I should not have suggested any child of tender years to dangerous境地, but there was not the smallest danger in this instance. Elizabeth, like all your generation, may choose to hide her sensibility, Hugo, but her treatment of me, invariably flippant though it has been, has got me into your association, leaves me with very little grievance against that generation, as you rightly suggested a few moments ago."

Hugo approved of Robin's method of saying Bunny was a wonder, for so, he translated her remarks, and when he defended her, the old judge had been so completely sold.

His mother had pitied poor Bunny, who hadn't any parents, and she and most of the world would no doubt pity poor Robin for having to be a paid guardian to some one else's child, but how absurd! People were nearly always wrong about everything. Sir John Windle had said so, and day by day Hugo was finding out how true it was.

He wished very much that he could talk about his father to Sir John—but the whole question before him and see what he thought of it, but somehow when the moment came he knew he would never be able to do it.

"I wish I heard you telling Aunt Eleanor to go to hell," mourned her host with regret.

"That locality, when I was young," returned Mrs. Boyne reprovingly, "was returned to me without getnewton except from the pulpit. I appreciate your sentiment, however, while deplored the phraseology of your generation."

"It's Bunny's generation, too," insinuated Hugo. "I'll bet you like it."

"I have heard it said that one should never argue with a child," Hugo. "I have been Elizabeth's guardian for eleven years and I confess it has been an instructive and interesting experience. At the time of appointment I was informed that she was wayward and unmanageable and would need a very firm hand. No doubt her appearance, which I am fully aware was enough to terrify any ordinary child of nine years, had much to do with my suitability in the eyes of the judge who had the matter in hand. Elizabeth, however, was not an ordinary child."

Coolidge Visit to Georgia

TO SPEND CHRISTMAS EVE IN CAPITAL
Over Holidays Considered

Washington, December 18.—(AP)—The holiday spirit this early has reached through the massive iron fence which surrounds the house and office of President and Mrs. Coolidge, like the rest of America's millions, are bestiring themselves with preparations for the Yuletide season.

With Christmas just one week away it became known today that the chief executive and the first lady might skip the capital for a few days to visit the Coolidge home. Mrs. Coolidge, like the rest of America's millions, are bestiring themselves with preparations for the Yuletide season.

On the night before Christmas both the president and his wife will participate in a community service in this city. While youngsters the nation over are being urged to go to bed so Santa Claus may fill their stockings, the president will be present for a Christmas program in the spacious parlors of the executive mansion and officially will turn on the lights of the Christmas tree. Mrs. Coolidge, meanwhile, will assist the Salvation Army in the distribution of baskets to the poor.

COAL OPERATORS MEET ON LAKE CARGO CASE

Washington, December 18.—(AP)—Representatives of West Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky coal operators met here today to consider the issue of whether that territory in the removal of controversy over lake cargo coal rates.

James D. Francis, of Huntington, W. Va., chairman of the general committee of southern producers, said that the operating executives wanted to talk with the president about the recent protest of Pittsburgh producers against the common basis of lake cargo rates that has been scheduled to go into effect January 1.

Until the southern coal representatives had gone over the situation with their rate attorneys, Mr. Francis said, the department of their position could not be given.

Northern and southern railroads attempted to bring about a compromise in the lake cargo fight between southern and northern producers by arranging schedules to go into effect January 1, which make lake cargo shipments from either territory bear a rate 35 cents below like shipments from the southern states.

The northern operators notified the interstate commerce commission Saturday that they would protest the compromise and the southern operators to meet taken no action looking either to defense or the compromise or the renewal of demands for a lessening of the Pittsburgh differential.

LADY NORTHESK WEDS VIVIAN CORNELIUS

American Dancer Was Recently Divorced From Lord Northesk.

London, December 18.—(AP)—Lady Northesk, formerly Jessica Brown, American dancer, was married this morning at the Princess Row register office to Vivian Cornelius.

Lady Northesk, who is the daughter of Mrs. A. W. Starke, of Buffalo, N. Y., recently divorced Lord Northesk in Scotland. Lord Northesk is now in the United States, where he has been quoted as saying that he hoped to be the fifth husband of Peggy Hopkins Joyce. Cornelius is honorary attaché at the British embassy in Brussels.

Only a handful of witnesses were present for the ceremony. The bride wore a beige fur-trimmed coat of chiffon velvet and a small felt hat to match. She arrived with a woman friend dressed in black a few minutes before Cornelius, who was accompanied by four men friends all attired in morning coats and silk hats.

After the brief ceremony the bride with her friend stepped quickly into a waiting automobile while the bridegroom and his companions followed immediately after.

The wedding party drove to the Savoy chapel, where the religious ceremony was conducted by the chaplain, Rev. Hugh Campbell, assisted by Rev. Perry Young. The service was choral, with a full supplied choir.

Instead of the usual wedding ring, a narrow chain of platinum set with diamonds was used.

A reception at a fashionable west end hotel concluded the event.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR AUTO VICTIM TO BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for Mrs. H. M. Smith, 73, who died early yesterday morning from injuries received when she was struck by an automobile late Monday afternoon, will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock today at the Epworth

Atlanta turned out en masse Tuesday to view the new six-cylinder Chevrolet models on display here for the first time at the auditorium-armory. Officials in charge of the exhibit estimated Tuesday that 10,203 people visited the show during the opening day, and they announced that 87 orders for deliveries immediately after January 1 had been booked.

Prior to the public opening of the Chevrolet exposition noon, the auto dealer was visited by 500 southern Chevrolet dealers. It followed a two-day conference held in connection with the showing of the new models. They were introduced to the new six and later were guests at a luncheon at the Biltmore hotel. This was followed by a tour of the local Chevrolet assembly plant, which now is in full production on the new six cylinder line and is shipping cars to southeastern dealers for early delivery.

The local Chevrolet show will remain open daily from 10:30 a. m. to midnight through Saturday and the course of the local exhibition.

Atlanta Throngs Exhibit Of New Chevrolet Six Line

public is invited to attend and see the beautiful new Chevrolet cars on display in full salon setting. In addition to the various pleasure car models, there are interesting mechanical displays illustrating the new features of the Chevrolet six.

A big force of Chevrolet experts is on hand to answer all questions asked by visitors, and motion pictures of the rigid tests given the cars before Chevrolet engineers placed their approval on the line are shown continuously. In addition, factory experts speak frequently on the unique engineering of the new models.

The cars attracted close attention and were the subject of many compliments Tuesday. In addition to the six-cylinder feature, they boast many mechanical innovations, added beauty in line and appointment, richer colors and more comfortable appointments.

No charge is made for admission to the show, and Chevrolet officials invite the public to come to the auditorium and see the new cars during

45 SHIPPING BOARD VESSELS ACQUIRED BY UNION COMPANY

Washington, December 18.—(AP)—Sale of 45 shipping board vessels to the Union Steamship Company, of Baltimore, Md., for scrapping was agreed to today by the board.

The price to be paid is $423,600, all vessels to be scrapped within 18 months.

Twenty-three of the vessels are now at Norfolk; five each at New York and New Orleans, eight at Orange, Texas, and two each at Philadelphia and Mobile. They are all of the submarine boat corporation type of construction.

BURNING FEELING NEATH ANKLE CAST CAUSED BY ANTS

Washington, December 18.—(AP)—A nestling beneath a plaster cast on his left ankle gave Captain E. Fraile a "burning sensation" at Walter Reed hospital here, but he was not aware that the uninvited visitors were the cause and it took some time to find them out.

Two weeks ago the officer sustained a broken ankle in a fall. The cast was placed to aid the healing process. With days passing, he complained increasingly of a terrible burning sensation, which the hospital authorities thought he was merely nervous and sought to quiet him.

After repeated insistence, the cast was removed and the erstwhile home of the ants was revealed. His uniform was proven justified, and after a nurse had bandaged the legs of Captain Fraile's bed were placed in liquid to prevent more ants from climbing up.
